ASSEMBLY, LEGISLATIVE (See also "Parliament"):

ACTING-CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEES (H. G. COATES, ESQ.), RULINGS, OBSERVATIONS AND OPINIONS (See also entries under "Deputy-Speaker", "Acting-Speakers" and "Temporary Chairmen of Committees"):

Chair: A member should direct his remarks to the Chair, 4676.

Interjections, Interruptions and Disorder:

A member was entitled to be heard in silence and members who wished to talk should do so outside the Chamber, 5035.

A member should ignore interjections and proceed with his speech, 4676.

Members Warned: Mr Doyle, 5035; Mr M. L. Hunter, 5035; Mr Wotton, 5035.

Offensive and Objectionable Remarks, Imputations and Aspersions: A member should refrain from reflecting upon private citizens unless there were special reasons for so doing, 5122.

Procedure: The Chair prefers one amendment at a time, 4683; if a member did not wish to proceed with an amendment he need not do so, 4675.

A member could speak on a proposed amendment provided that adequate notice of it had been given, 4683.

Relevance: A member should speak to the clause or to the amendment, 4448, 4957, 5121, 5122.

During the Committee stage there was not to be another second-reading debate, 4435, 5121.

It was in order to speak to a consequential amendment, 4669.

A member should confine himself to an amendment, 4241; but this did not preclude some reference to the clause the subject of the amendment, 4224, 4434, 4666, 4675.

The only matter to be discussed in regard to a certain schedule to a bill was whether or not the committees referred to could sit during the prorogation of Parliament, 5018.

ASSEMBLY, LEGISLATIVE (continued):

ACTING-SPEAKER AND CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEES (J. H. BROWN, ESQ.), RULINGS, OBSERVATIONS AND OPINIONS (See also entries under "Deputy-Speaker" and "Acting-Speakers"):

Adjournment: A member was in order in raising a matter on the adjournment motion; there was no need for the matter to be raised in the normal process of representations to a Minister, 4141.

Mr Acting-Speaker did not intend to rule against members who sought information on the adjournment motion even though the seeking of it might be described by other members as capricious, fraudulent, or cheating, 4849.

Australian Constitution Convention:

Appointment of the Hon. T. L. Lewis, Esq., to serve as appointed member of the delegation from the Parliament of New South Wales, 4791.

Bills: At the introductory stage of a bill a member could bring forward arguments on why leave should not be given; also, he could indicate briefly why other matters on the business paper should have precedence and why other matters should be covered by the bill. Members were asked to confine themselves within these bounds, 4428.

The basic rule for debate in Committee on a bill is that it must be confined to matters contained in the clause at issue, 1947.

The precedent of taking the Legislative Council's amendments seriatum would be followed when considering Legislative Council's amendments to a bill, 1331.

It was competent for the Committee to make a decision on an amendment that had been moved to a clause in a bill, 1174.

In the opinion of the Chairman amendments proposed to be moved to a bill would import a new principle into it. Also, the matter raised in the amendments was already covered in other legislation. The amendments were ruled out of order, 1464.

It was in order for a member to speak generally to a clause in a bill and then to move each of his proposed amendments to the clause separately, 2585.

An amendment had been moved in a spirit of mockery, 1170; the short title to a bill could be amended only if amendments to operative clauses of the bill rendered it necessary, 1171.

A point of order, that an amendment was outside the order of leave of the bill, was upheld. However, part of the proposed amendment was allowed, 1367.
Chair: A member should address the Chair and ignore interjections, 1173, 1946, 4474, 4977, 5087. It is the sole prerogative of the Chair whom he shall call, 4775.

Mr Acting-Speaker expressed concern about the degree of respect paid by members to the Chair while they were contributing to a debate. However, the Acting-Speaker did not have authority to make members face the Chair all the time, 4769.

The Acting-Speaker would take severe action against the next member who spoke while the Acting-Speaker was on his feet. He regarded this as the grossest act of disorder in the House, and he did not intend to let it happen again, 5201.

It was gross disorder for a member to reflect on the Chair, and if the member continued in that vein the Chairman would have no option but to report him to the Speaker and ask that the member be removed from the Chamber, 1948.

There was to be no reflection upon the Chair, 1187, 1979.

It was disorderly for a member to enter or leave the Chamber while the Chairman was on his feet, 913, 4660.

Debate: A member was entitled to reply to what another member said during debate on a motion before the House, 5220. A member was requested not to introduce new matter into a debate when that member was replying to the debate, 5220.

The Acting-Speaker was sure that a member had inadvertently referred to a matter that had nothing to do with the debate and that the member would not offend again, 5221.

Division: Counting of members, 4659. A division had to be called for before the Chairman declared the question, 3058. A division was called off in order that the Chairman could put the question again; two members were requested to leave the Chamber, 3384, 3469.

Hansard: Expunging from or inserting material into Hansard, q., 4649. A member would decide whether to request that material be incorporated in Hansard, 5219.

The criteria for incorporating matter in Hansard are that the matter must be relevant, of a statistical nature, have the approval of the Speaker and have been produced to the Speaker before the request was made, 4548.

Report in Hansard of certain Parliamentary proceedings, 4769.

Interjections and Interruptions: There was too much audible conversation and noise, 913, 917, 918, 1172, 1175, 1951, 2042, 2131, 2947, 3248, 4089, 4197, 4200, 4589, 4651, 4657, 4928, 5082, 5187, 5188, 5190.

The Acting-Speaker would take effective action to avoid a scene of the nature that had developed recently in another place, 4657.

The Acting-Speaker wanted a standard of virtually absolute silence maintained in the House, 4821.

Members must remain silent while questions are being asked and answers given, 4206, 5082, 5187, 5188, 5190.

A member should not debate by making interjections, 1196, 1730, 4426; or replying to interjections, 4328.

A member was entitled to be heard in silence, 3856, 4323, 4689, 4933.

Question time would not be permitted to degenerate into a slanging match across the Chamber, 4760, 4763.

Too many interjections were creeping into a debate. It was obvious that members felt deeply on the matter being raised but long interjections and emotional outbursts would not help. The matter had to be judged in accordance with the standing orders, 5200.

4591, 4655, 4656, 4671, 4689, 4759, 4760, 4763, 4768, 4783, 4787, 4799, 4803, 4808, 4809, 4812, 4821, 4951, 4977, 4980, 4993, 4994, 5000, 5010, 5083, 5087, 5092, 5093, 5098, 5102, 5108, 5191, 5193, 5196, 5201, 5216.

Disorderly Assembly: Acting-Speaker, birthday greetings, 4928.

Legislative Assembly: Acting-Speaker, 4939.

ACTING-SPEAKER AND CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEES (J. H. BROWN, ESQ.), RULINGS, OBSERVATIONS AND OPINIONS (continued):

     Interruption from the public gallery, 4822.

     Sitting suspended due to interruption from the public gallery, 5199.

     Expression of gratitude to officers of the House for assistance to the Acting-Speaker, 5221.

     Visitors to Mr Speaker's Gallery, Procedure, 5184.

     Members warned: Mr Arbaster, 4812; Mr Bannon, 4770; Mr Cahill, 1725; Mr Cox, 5191; Mr Clough, 4142; Mr Crafter, 4204; 4773, 5087; Mr Crawford, 1164; Mr Day, 3251; 4390, 4809, 4849; Mr Doyle, 4802; 4812; Mr Einfield, 5189; Mr Face, 1979, 1982, 4447; Mr Fischer, 1165, 4388, 4803; Mr Gordon, 924, 1730, 4800; Mr Haigh, 2947; 5014; Mr Jackson, '4141,' 4142; 4760, 4164, 4929, 5194; Mr Johnstone, 4656; Mr Keane, 4817; Mr L. B. Kelly, 4090, 4388, 4930, 5002, 5082; Mr Mallam, 4988, 5081; Mr Mason, 1331; Mr Mead, 4818, 5197, 5201; Mr Morris, 5193; Mr Mulock, 4087, 4528, 4759, 5108, 5193; Mr Mutton, 4931; Mr Neilly, 2063, 4455, 4659, 5821; Mr Peterson, 4799, 5188; Mr Sheahan, 1947, 1949, 4093, 4324, 4839, 4592, 4768; Mr Stewart, 1725, 4659, 4760, 4763; Mr Viney, 4430, 4804, 4819; Mr F. J. Walker, 4823, 5195; Mr N. D. Walker, 4430, 4987.

     Ministerial Statements: Mr Acting-Speaker would not rule that an answer to a question was a ministerial statement, 4314.

     Offensive and Objectionable Remarks, Imputations and Aspersions: A member had not been abused by other members; he should keep to the facts, 936.

     It was long-standing practice and precedent that if a member was aggrieved or offended by something said, he should take action in respect of it immediately. At the stage at which the matter was raised the Acting-Speaker would not direct a withdrawal of the remark, 5202.

     The Acting-Speaker did not know of any standing order under which he could ask a member to withdraw a reflection upon departmental officers, but he asked members to give serious thought to whether they should reflect upon such officers, 4455.

     The Acting-Speaker would not let the stage be reached where members on both sides took offence at matters that normally went unnoticed in the House, 2249.

     If a member considered a remark to be offensive he should take a point of order expeditiously, not engage in a little caucus with other members on what to do about it. So far as the Chair was concerned the matter was finished, 4429.

     Members were reminded that although some matters could be personally offensive, there was a limit to being thin skinned, 4429.

     It was not the Acting-Speaker's intention to allow matters of a personal nature to be raised under any guise by any member on either side of the House, 4142.

     A point of order, that a member had not withdrawn offensive remarks, was not upheld, 4142.

     The following remarks were required to be withdrawn: "... I was told that the honourable member for Heathcote had tendered a cheque in a club in his electorate for $500 and it was not honoured", 4142; "He (the President of the Australian Hotels Association) must have written you a letter with something inside it ...", 4426; "I am sickened when I hear Opposition members being hypocritical in the extreme ... in regard to the consumption of alcohol ..." (in relation to the honourable member for Drummoyne and the honourable member for Kogarah), 4429.

     The following remarks were not required to be withdrawn: "If the honourable member for Heathcote, who drew attention to the state of the House, were as diligent in paying his accounts as he is in attending to the standing orders, he would indeed be a very worthwhile member of this House", 4142; "... the honourable member for Georges River ... threatened the President of the Legislative Council with criminal action", 5082; "If a person looks like a cockey, walks like a cockey and speaks like a cockey, he is a cockey", 5202; A reference to the honourable member for Georges River as "contemptible, a coward and despicable", 5202.

     Parliament: Comprehensive statement by the Acting-Speaker on water damage to many of the records of the Legislative Assembly, 4769.

     Senate vacancy, Joint sitting, election of a Senator, 4095.

     Personal explanation: If a member wished to make a personal explanation, it would be necessary for him to obtain the indulgence of the House. The Acting-Speaker would ask the House whether leave was granted and if leave were not granted, the matter would be finished; he did not want any debate on what might or might not then happen, 5198.

The purpose of Standing Order 139 was to allow a member to explain briefly something in regard to a material part of a speech, but that speech must relate to the question before the Chair. A member could not explain a matter to which he had referred in a speech that he had made on an earlier occasion. It would have been in order for him to take a point of order during that debate if the question was no longer when the question was no longer before the Chair, 5199.

As a member did not have the indulgence of the House to make a personal explanation, he could not proceed, 5195, 5200; if the member had comments to make on what had occurred he should make them outside the House, 5196.

Points of order: A member should address himself to his point of order, not debate the issue, 4768.

A member had a perfect right to take a point of order, 4524, 5000, 5196; but not to discuss a recent event in the House, 5001.

An experienced member of the House should know the procedure for taking a point of order; he should not take fraudulent points, 4933; or a capricious point, 4391.

The Acting-Speaker did not need assistance from a member on whether or not to uphold a point of order, 4768.

A point of order had been disposed of, 1949.

No point of order was involved, 1187, 1734, 1947, 1954, 3365, 4446, 4543, 4762, 4768, 5203.

Procedure: Comprehensive statement by the Chairman on procedure for considering Legislative Council’s amendments, 1331.

If a member wished to receive the call he should seek it at the appropriate time, 4950.

It was competent for the Deputy Premier to speak to a motion in relation to the election of the Acting-Chairman of Committees, 4084.

Scope of the debate at the introductory stage of a bill, 4478, 4550.

There was no such thing as a point of clarification, 4759.
7th August, 1974 to 25th March, 1975

ASSEMBLY, LEGISLATIVE (continued):

A member was requested to refer briefly to a particular matter and to reserve his further remarks until later, 928.

A member should confine his remarks to the amendment before the Chair, and not engage in a second-reading debate, 939.

A member was requested to confine his remarks to the motion before the Chair, 934, 1178, 1179, 1187, 1353, 1942, 1944, 1946, 1947, 1948, 1953, 2042, 3366, 4082, 4228, 4458, 4472, 4813, 4953, 4970, 4972, 4999, 5000, 5002, 5116, 5214.

A member could not traverse a wide area at the introductory stage of a bill. He should confine himself to matters appropriate to the debate on the introductory motion, 2701, 4664.

A member may make brief reference to matter not contained in a bill, 4470, 4818, 5000, 5001, 5002.

A member's remarks were totally outside the scope of the bill before the House, 4230, 4457.

If a member did not direct his remarks to the bill before the House he would be required to resume his seat, 4586, 5001.

A member when replying to debate on a motion he had moved should not raise new matter, 5219.

A member could answer points raised by another member, 5220; but he should speak only to the bill, 5107.

Points of order, that a member was not speaking to the motion before the Chair, were not upheld, 4083, 4813.

Select Committees: Although the standing orders did not prescribe the procedure for the resignation of a member from a select committee, Mr Acting-Speaker deemed it his duty to report to the House the receipt of a letter of resignation from a member who had been appointed by the House to a select committee, 4524.

Although a select committee had been quite correctly constituted, two of its members had indicated a certain desire. As the House had not yet agreed with that desire it would be a matter for the House to decide on the acceptance or otherwise of the resignations of those members, 4758.

Letter of resignation from the honourable member for Georges River, 4758.
The Acting-Speaker had nothing to add to what he had said about the rights of members to withdraw from select committees, 4759.

Tedious Repetition: A member should not indulge in tedious repetition, 1943, 4054, 4987.

Urgency: A member has ten minutes to establish urgency, 4765; and he should confine himself to urgency, 4766; he should not raise matters that are appropriate to the debate on the substantive motion, 4656, 4657, 4930.

If the Government considered that reference was being made by an Opposition member to a non-existent circumstance, the appropriate Minister could handle the matter on behalf of the Government 4656.

Division: Mr Deputy-Speaker noted that owing to an oversight on the part of the Opposition Whip, a member of the Opposition had not been paired with the Speaker, who was absent, 4059 (Mr Brown).

Offensive and Objectionable Remarks, Imputations and Aspersions: A member was entitled to express an opinion in the House about the actions of another member, 3226 (Mr Duncan).

The following remarks were required to be withdrawn: "... and the Attorney-General, who until he appointed himself Queen's Counsel, was a solicitor", 1166 (Mr Brown); "Is he an honourable member?", 4048 (Mr Brown).

Personal Explanation: A member's remarks did not come within the scope of a personal explanation, 3341 (Mr Brown).

Points of Order: No point of order was involved, 1085 (Mr Brown); 2618 (Mr Coates); 3226 (Mr Duncan).

Privilege: As a matter had been mentioned on a radio programme, published in newspapers and had not been denied the Deputy-Speaker considered it to be a matter on which a member could endeavour to make out a case of privilege, 4043 (Mr Brown).

It was important that all members should be able to carry out their duties without being impeded in any way. If the intended actions of a trade union were put into effect, the House might decide whether there had been a breach of privilege. The Deputy-Speaker did not consider that at this stage a prima facie case of privilege had been established, 4043 (Mr Brown).

Relevance: On the introductory motion a member may make only passing reference to how a measure could be improved, 2701 (Mr Brown).

The Deputy-Speaker upheld an earlier ruling of his that occurrences in another place would not be dealt with in this House, 4058 (Mr Brown).

The matter being raised by a member during the second-reading debate of a bill would be better dealt with at the Committee stage; if a member defied the Chair by continuing to refer to the matter on which a ruling had been given he would be required to resume his seat, 1819 (Mr Brown).

A member was directed to reserve any remarks he had to make on specific points in a bill to the debate in Committee, 1917 (Mr Brown).

A member should confine his remarks to the objects of a bill, 706, 707.

As a matter to which a member was referring had already been determined earlier in the day, the Deputy-Speaker suggested that the member should not proceed any further with that point, 1915 (Mr Brown).

The remarks being made by a member would be more appropriate during the budget debate, 2625 (Mr Brown).

A Minister was entitled to answer statements made by a member on a bill, even though that member's remarks were outside the order of leave, 3341 (Mr Brown).

A member was requested to speak to the motion and not to refer to the actions of directors of a company, otherwise he would be required to resume his seat, 2623 (Mr Brown).

A member should confine his remarks to the motion, 707, 2704, 4053 (Mr Brown); 712 (Mr Coates); 4982 (Mr Duncan).

During the second-reading debate on a bill it would be in order to refer briefly to a matter raised by a previous speaker in Standing Orders, m., 121, 1813, 3819, 4094.

SPEAKER, MR (THE HON. JAMES ALEXANDER CAMERON, LL.M.), RULINGS, OBSERVATIONS AND OPINIONS:

Absence of Mr Speaker: London Parliamentary Seminar, 3644.

Address in Reply: Governor's Opening Speech, 47; Presentation to Governor, 527, 644; His Excellency's Reply, 655.

Administration of the Government, 30, 3789.

Adjournment: If a member showed Mr Speaker that he wished to bring before the House an urgent matter which was not likely to be raised by any other member in what remained of the Address-in-Reply debate, Mr Speaker would be prepared to hear him, 443; a member was permitted to proceed, 444.

It was competent for a member to raise on the adjournment motion matters involving administrations with which the Committee had not dealt during the Committee debate on the Appropriation Bill, 1995.

It was not the indulgence of the House but that of the Speaker which a member craved in order that he could speak on the adjournment motion, 446.

The preliminary acceptance by the Speaker of a notice under Standing Order 49 must be regarded only as a provisional agreement that it would be in order to raise the matter. However, Mr Speaker was of the opinion that the particular matter being raised was not an appropriate one for discussion within the terms of the standing order, 588.

Mr Speaker requested a member to establish that a matter was a proper one for discussion under Standing Order 49, 873. After hearing the member's submissions Mr Speaker ruled that it was a proper matter to be discussed, 875.

Though the matter sought to be raised was a marginal one, Mr Speaker was inclined towards discussion of it rather than against it and, as the House was willing to entertain a second motion under Standing Order 49, he permitted the member to proceed, 880.

Having heard a member's submission, and points taken by other members, Mr Speaker ruled that a matte was not a proper one to be discussed under Standing Order 49, 1043.

The House ran the risk of making itself look foolish in the public eye if it debated non-existent circumstances but, having embarked upon a debate, the House must run the gauntlet. A point of order was therefore not involved, 883.

A point of order, that the matter being sought to be raised by a member on the adjournment motion related to a federal not a State matter, was not upheld, 881.

A point of order, that a member was referring to a matter about which the Government had no knowledge, was not upheld, 881, 882.

A point of order, that a matter being raised under Standing Order 49 could conceivably be debated in the near future, was not upheld and in so doing Mr Speaker adhered to an earlier ruling, 883.

A member could not raise in reply a matter that had not been dealt with during the debate, 893.

A member was in order in raising a certain matter on the adjournment motion, 1216, 1996.

A point of order was not upheld that a member had had ample opportunity to bring before the House the matter that he was raising on the adjournment motion, 1995.

Speaker, Mr (The Hon. James Alexander Cameron, LL.M.), Rulings, Observations and Opinions (continued):

Points of order— that a member should not be permitted to continue to speak on the adjournment motion as the matter was not really urgent— were not upheld, 445.

Anticipation of Debate: A member should intimate why a motion of which he had notice should be debated, 2424; later the member was directed to speak to the motion before the House, 2425.

A point of order was not upheld that a question being asked anticipated debate, 1745.

Chair: A member should direct his remarks to the Chair, 975, 340, 582, 1667, 1681.

A member was called upon to return to the Chamber, 3211; and to apologize for remarks he had made that reflected upon the Chair, 3234.

A member should not interrogate Mr Speaker, 978; or persist in speaking while Mr Speaker was on his feet, 1201; and a member should not misstate the rulings of Mr Speaker, 1898.

Mr Speaker would not tolerate a member rising to his feet while Mr Speaker was on his feet, 1995.

Debate: A member had taken a point of order, not indulged in debate on the motion, 2428.

A member could move for the adjournment of the debate on a bill only with the concurrence of the House, 717.

A point of order was not upheld that as a member had the call prior to the question being stated by the Speaker the member should be permitted to resume the debate, 2219.

Mr Speaker would not permit the Leader of the Opposition to reply to a query that had been raised with him, 577.

Dissent: It was fully competent for the Leader of the Opposition to give notice of dissent, but not at that stage, 3802.

Notice of intention to move a motion of dissent should be given when notices of motion are called for, 3811.

Speaker, Mr (The Hon. James Alexander Cameron, LL.M.), Rulings, Observations and Opinions (continued):

Obviously there were some limits upon a member who moved a motion of dissent, but the Chair would always be extremely reluctant to fetter a member in this situation, 1971, 1972.

Comprehensive ruling of Mr Speaker on dissent, 327.

Divisions: It was competent for a member to act as a teller even though he held a special office, 3642.

No point of order was involved in a submission by a member that division lists should be checked by the tellers before they were handed to the Speaker, 332.

It had been ruled by a previous Speaker that it was not competent for the Speaker to decide whether a member had a pecuniary interest in a matter upon which a vote had been taken and the only way of testing the issue was by moving a substantive motion to disallow the vote. This course would have to be followed, 1744.

Documents: A member who quoted directly from a letter should make it available to the House, 3483.

A member who persisted in reading directly from a report would have to paraphrase the report or table it, if requested, 833, 1895.

Mr Speaker knew of no restriction on a Minister’s power to table any document when the Minister believed the tabling to be completely proper, 1438.

A private member has no right to lay papers on the table of the House, 1438.

Mr Speaker thought that a member had! given complete details of a letter from which he was quoting, 1104.

A member was summarizing the contents of a letter, not quoting from it, 579.

Private members were not permitted to table documents, 1675.

When a member clearly identified letters to which he had referred but from which he had not quoted, he would not be required to table them. A member was not permitted to quote from a letter when he stated that he did not wish to table it, 579.

A member was asked whether he was prepared to vouch for the accuracy of a newspaper report or the authenticity of a certain statement, 378.
INDEX TO SUBJECTS

Volumes 111-116

Speaker, Mr (The Hon. James Alexander Cameron, LL.M.), Rulings, Observations and Opinions (continued):

The only issue before the House was the tabling of certain documents. Any points of order must relate to that issue, 1436.

A point of order, that a member should be required to give details of a contract to which he was referring, was not upheld, 1105.

Interjections, Interruptions and Disorder:

There were too many interjections, 39, 112, 166, 204, 211, 248, 340, 382, 399, 414, 415, 440, 511, 564, 571, 573, 574, 658, 701, 797, 922, 968, 1033, 1080, 1151, 1529, 1671, 1805, 1815, 1899, 1939, 2016, 2071, 2138, 2225, 2314, 2567, 3814.

There was too much audible conversation in the House, 326, 381, 1039, 1098, 1427, 1529, 1666, 1668, 1850, 1939, 1964, 2001.

The noise level in the Chamber was excessive, 119, 427, 760, 799, 968, 1243, 1245, 1248, 1556, 2007, 2209, 2685, 3616, 3641.

A member should be heard in silence, 382, 417, 867, 971, 1071, 1433, 1434, 1852.

A member had the floor, nobody else, 45, 1895.

A member should disregard disorderly interjections and address his remarks to the Chair, 977, 1812.

It was imperative that decorum be maintained throughout the debate. Mr Speaker would do his utmost to ensure, by whatever means at his disposal, that it was maintained, 3791.

Mr Speaker intended to ensure that a Minister would have an opportunity to reply to a member, 1532, 1672.

Mr Speaker had not had occasion since becoming Speaker to take drastic action against any member, and he wanted it to continue that way, 1090.

A member was permitted to answer interjections, not to stimulate them, 3397.

Speaker, Mr (The Hon. James Alexander Cameron, LL.M.), Rulings, Observations and Opinions (continued):

Judiciary: Mr Speaker would not direct a member not to participate in a debate in such a way as to cast reflections upon the judiciary, 3626.

A point of order, that a member, by implication, was casting serious aspersions upon a recent appointment to the High Court of Australia, was not upheld, 3627.

A point of order, that this Parliament, as a sovereign one, was not so sovereign that it could interfere in the exercise of the Royal prerogative by the representative of Her Majesty the Queen, was not upheld, 3621.

There was no reason why it was not competent for the Parliament to discuss the Constitution of Australia, 3620.

A point of order, that remarks being made in the form of an attack upon a High Court judge were intended to impair the administration of justice, was not upheld. Mr Speaker was not willing to fetter discussion in the direction sought, 3618.

Mr Speaker dismissed a point of order that a motion of urgency was out of order in that what was being said could be construed as an attack upon the judiciary, 3616.

Speaker, Mr (The Hon. James Alexander Cameron, LL.M.), Rulings, Observations and Opinions (continued):

A member could not go into intimate details about the conduct of a particular individual under the guise of dealing with a revenue-raising measure, 3352.

Mr Speaker would not direct a member to withdraw accusations that he had made the previous day, 1435.

A Minister was not required to withdraw an allegation that a member had not raised at the first available opportunity a matter to which that member was directing the attention of the House, 3485.

There was no substance in a point of order that a Minister had cast reflections upon a member, 1672.

A point of order that a remark was unparliamentary must be taken by the member about whom the remark was made, 133.

A point of order, that while answering a question a Minister was making an improper imputation about the motives of a member, was not upheld, 46.

The following remarks were required to be withdrawn: "... like the honourable member for Illawarra, who has been inciting these prisoners", 394; "I do not condone blackmail as do the Leader of the Opposition and members of the party to which he belongs", 1248; "This man (the honourable member for Heathcote) who sought to deflect the course of justice and is as crooked as a dog's hind leg, comes into this House today with a trumped up story", 1673; ... a pimp", 1738.

The following remarks were not required to be withdrawn: "The honourable member for Penrith defended those people when shortages of power occurred in hospitals", 190; "... from the fascist right in this State represented in no short order by the honourable member for Mosman", 191; "... the words and actions of the honourable member have amounted, in essence, to incitement of prisoners in our prison system", 394; The "Mafia godfather", or "Bally godfather", 488; "You (the honourable member for Campbelltown) are a liar", 867; "The honourable member for Monaro is a little worried about the proposed petrol tax because in his business he uses a lot of petrol", 987.

Senate Vacancy:

Resignation of Senator the Honourable L. K. Murphy, Q.C., q., 3789.

As Mr Speaker could see nothing in an amendment which had been moved that would negate the motion, he was fully prepared to accept an amendment, 3791.

Mr Speaker would not entertain debate on a formal motion that the question be now put, 3799.

A point of order—that the whole of a motion dealing with rules for a Joint Sitting of both Houses of Parliament was out of order—was not upheld, 3799, 3800.

No point of privilege was involved in a submission that as a member had not been supplied with a copy of rules for a proposed Joint Sitting of both Houses, he ought to be able to study them to decide whether he was in favour of the rules when it came to a vote upon a motion in respect of them, 3800.

Mr Speaker dismissed a point of order that the motion in relation to the rules for a Joint Sitting of both Houses was out of order, 3807.

Speaker, Mr (The Hon. James Alexander Cameron, LL.M.), Rulings, Observations and Opinions (continued):

Message from the Legislative Council in regard to the Joint Sitting of both Houses, 3826.

Election of C. E. Bunton, Esq., O.B.E., 4033.

Visit of His Royal Highness The Prince Charles Prince of Wales, Message; from the Legislative Council, 1664.

Personal Explanation: A member should come directly to his point of explanation, 804, 805, 977, 1306.

A member was not debarred by a time factor from making a personal explanation. However, he must show clearly how his personal reputation has been reflected upon, 1435.

An attack upon a group of people was clearly not the kind of situation that Standing Order 137 was intended to remedy. Mr Speaker urged all members to make sure that resort to the standing order did not simply become a part of the political byplay of the House. There was no point of personal explanation in what was being raised, 979.

Mr Speaker would not allow one personal explanation to be used by way of debate in another personal explanation, 1748.

Mr Speaker intended to take a much stricter view of personal explanation than he had taken the day before, or by him so far that day, 1435.

Mr Speaker was satisfied that a member had put before the House matters that could give rise to a personal explanation, 2009.

The matter being raised by a member had been ventilated repetitively and Mr Speaker wanted the member's personal explanation to be brought to a conclusion; Mr Speaker was not willing to allow the procedure of personal explanation to be developed into a debate on the personality of a former member of the upper House; Mr Speaker directed that the personal explanation be now treated as concluded, 2697.

A member had exceeded the bounds of personal explanation, 979, 1159, 1307, 1675, 1909, 2010, 2696, 3545.

Mr Speaker was unwilling to hear a member any further on a personal explanation, which is a privilege extended to a member as a matter of indulgence by the House. A member should not abuse that privilege by seeking to debate the matter with which he was dealing, 1667.

Petitions: Mr Speaker reminded members that Standing Order 98 prescribes that a member presenting a petition should confine himself to a statement of the parties from whom it came, the number of signatures attached to it, the material allegations contained in it, and to the reading of the prayer thereof. More than that was not only unnecessary but contrary to the standing orders, 2683; members were entitled to know what those standing orders provide, 2684; Mr Speaker required members to conform to the necessary standards, 2685.

It may be that the long-standing practice of the House in relation to the presentation of petitions was incorrect and a better practice might be adopted. The long-standing and invariable practice of the House was that when a petition was not in the proper form, its entry was not recorded in the Votes and Proceedings. Should the House wish to change the procedure the Chair certainly would have no objection, 1749.

The presentation of petitions should conform strictly to the verbiage presented in the standing orders, 1738.

Points of Order: A member must come to his point of order immediately, 470, 1105, 1675, 3616, 3619.

Mr Speaker would not tolerate the taking of completely insubstantial points of order, 426, 3483, 3670; or the continued abuse of the form of point of order as a mere means of interrupting debate, 1673; or a protracted address on a point of order, 3799.

Mr Speaker would not hear a member on a point of order when another member was taking a point of order, 630; or speaking to privilege, 1674.

A member had been called to ask a question not to take a point of order, 1245.

The Chair had ruled against a point of order to which a member was calling attention, 881.

A member while speaking to a point of order could not issue challenges to other members, 1436.

A member should take a point of order, not interrogate Mr Speaker, 1243; or claim misrepresentation, 583.

Mr Speaker strongly disapproved of the taking of a fraudulent and cheating point of order, 427.

A member may not canvass the Speaker’s ruling upon a point of order that has been disposed of, 868.

A Minister was requested to assist a member who had not heard what that Minister had said, 121.

A misrepresentation of fact was not a matter for a point of order, 567.

A member did not wish to proceed with his point of order, 649.

All the points a member had taken were matters of argument, not matters of order, and the member was directed to resume his seat, 3619.

A member was asked whether he wished to take a point of order, 2794.

A member was not presenting a point of order; he was disputing an allegation of a Minister, 1672.

Privilege: It would be ridiculous for the Speaker to hear a submission by a member for ten minutes when it was perfectly plain that privilege was not involved in what was being put. If the member disapproved of Mr Speaker’s ruling he had a remedy open to him, 586.

The impugning of a member’s character or an allegation of improper imputations was pertinent not to privilege but to personal explanation. For privilege to be established it must be shown that there has been some interference with a member in the performance of his duties and that in some way he has been deterred from performing those duties. In this instance no conceivable matter of privilege had arisen, 1675.

Remarks made by a member amounted to a serious abuse of the processes of privilege and Mr Speaker did not want a repetition of that kind of approach to such a delicate and most important issue, 1041.

Nothing a member had said touched upon privilege, 1675; or upon order, 2695.

A member who sought to have a ruling clarified was informed that he had not received the call, 1749.

Mr Speaker considered that day after day the whole process of privilege was being debased in the House. If the process continued it would result in only the merest shred of substantive privilege being left, and if that happened all members would regret it, 1748.

On occasions the House had permitted a member of a select committee to resign from that select committee and on other occasions the House had discharged a member of a select committee and replaced him with another. It was the duty of the Speaker to decide whether the matter related to privilege and it was for the House to decide whether or not there had been a breach of privilege. Mr Speaker was satisfied that this was not basically a matter of privilege, as an affirmative answer could not be given to the question, could the matter complained of be said fairly and reasonably to be capable of interfering with members in the performance of their duties or of deterring them from asking questions of a Minister, 3810.
Presented to Parliament by the Speaker, and by Command of Her Excellency, The Honourable Mrs. James Alexander Cameron, Lieutenant Governor, and read the first time in Assembly and referred to the Standing Orders Committee for consideration and report:

The standing orders clearly provide that a motion shall be put without debate, 3801.

Mr Speaker stated that he would put paragraphs (i) and (iii) of a motion before the House as one question and, in the event of that question being agreed to, he would direct that the division bells be rung and the House proceed to a ballot, 3628, 3642; and Mr Speaker outlined detailed procedure to be followed for the conduct of the ballot, 3643. As the House had agreed to two paragraphs of the motion, Mr Speaker ruled that within the terms of Standing Order 346 the House was dealing with a case where five members were proposed for appointment to a select committee, 3644.

Questions without Notice: Traditionally the House had accepted without complaint that it was in order for a Minister to give to the House, for preference verbally, an answer containing normally non-disputatious material. In addition, the House had frequently extended to Ministers the courtesy of permitting them to table a supplementary written statement and it was Mr Speaker's understanding that such a statement would contain non-disputatious material. A tendency had seemed to be developing of Ministers attempting a second reply. Logically this could become a third, fourth, or fifth reply on successive days in which a Minister could supply disputatious material. This was an undesirable practice and it would be a matter that the House would have to decide, 872.

A Minister has wide latitude when answering a question, 43, 115, 120, 245, 801, 1809, 1813, 1851, 1853, 2139, 2315, 3200.

Mr Speaker would not rule that an answer to a question was a ministerial statement and therefore a subject for debate, 647, 1809.

Speaker, Mr (The Hon. James Alexander Cameron, LL.M.), Rulings, Observations and Opinions (continued):

Although a question contained a defect Mr Speaker allowed it, 114, 119, 320, 1240, 1247, 1745, 1856, 2006, 2689, 2880, 3718.

The question was in order, 642, 647, 868, 1154, 1805, 1811, 1851, 2136, 2235.

A point of order, that a member sought in a question acceptance or otherwise of a rumour, was upheld. The Premier and Treasurer was allowed to answer the first part of the member's question, 696, 697.

A point of order, that a Minister was using the time set aside for tabling of papers to develop a further reply to a question, was not upheld, 805; there was no basis of order upon which Mr Speaker could rule the practice out of order; it was sanctified to a degree by long practice in the House, 806.

It was not competent for a member to suggest to a Minister how he should answer a question, 1812.

An answer to a question was too long and a Minister was depriving members of the opportunity to ask questions, 1813.

Reluctantly Mr Speaker allowed a question even though it was only tenuously connected with the portfolio of the Minister to whom it had been directed, 2078.

A member was giving in a question a great deal of information that was public knowledge; the member had taken the matter about as far as it could be taken, 2137.

A point of order, that the Premier and Treasurer was reflecting upon the monarch in the terms of his answer to a question, was not upheld, 3721.

Quorum: Mr Speaker regarded as slightly questionable the practice of continually calling attention to the state of the House when a quorum was present, 2233.

Reading of Speeches: The long-established practice of the House enjoining members upon the reading of speeches had never been applied to Ministers or the Leader of the Opposition, 427.

A member was well within the established practice in respect of reference to copious notes, 817, 1771, 2011.
ASSEMBLY, LEGISLATIVE (continued):

The Speaker, Mr (The Hon. James Alexander Cameron, LL.M.), Rulings, Observations and Opinions (continued):

Although nothing in the terms of an urgency motion could possibly be construed as an attack, disguised or otherwise, upon the judiciary, it was beyond Mr Speaker's power to guarantee what turn a debate would take. However, it was completely competent for the sovereign Parliament of New South Wales to debate the motion, 3613, 3617.

Mr Speaker was willing to overlook a defect in the motion, 1671.

The House was discussing the substantive motion, not the motion for the suspension of standing orders, 559.

Mr Speaker had not ruled that there was no urgency in the matters that a member had placed before the House. The seat for a member could not be suspended to allow the member to address himself to the matter under discussion but not necessarily in reply to the mover, 1243.

A member was replying to the debate on the motion, 2230.

A Minister was entitled to give the Government's answer to a specific motion that had been moved, 701, 702, 1243.

A member who persisted in discussing matters that did not fall within the framework of urgency was directed to resume his seat, 1242.

A point of order—that a member was debating the subject and not presenting reasons why a matter was urgent—was not upheld. The member was making a bona fide attempt to address himself to urgency, 757, 1667.

Special Adjournment, m., 765, 1536, 3548, 3562, 3920, 4928, 5202.

Standard of Debate, address, 479.

Temporary Chairmen of Committees, 31.

Temporary Chairman of Committees (H. G. Coates, Esq., E. D. Darby, Esq., B. Ec., R. B. Duncan, Esq., L. B. Kelly, Esq., and G. Pacullo, Esq.), Rulings, Observations and Opinions:

Chair: A member should address the Chair, 1556 (Mr Duncan); 2167 (Mr Coates).

TEMPORARY CHAIRMEN OF COMMITTEES

A member should ignore interjections and proceed with his speech, 1556 (Mr Duncan); 2167 (Mr Coates).

A Minister was entitled to courtesy from Opposition members while he was contributing to a debate, 3961 (Mr Duncan).

If members had to be called to order they would be removed without further notice, 3958 (Mr Duncan).

There were too many interjections, 1555, 1558, 2123, 3958 (Mr Duncan); 2619 (Mr Coates).

Interruptions Disorderly, 261, 287, 4553, 4569 (Mr Duncan).

MEMBERS WARNED: Mr Crabtree, 3227; Mr Gordon, 2051; Mr M. L. Hunter, 2123; Mr Mulock, 2050; Mr Sheahan, 2123; Mr Stewart, 1989 (Mr Duncan).

OFFENSIVE AND OBJECTIONABLE REMARKS, IMPUTATIONS AND ASPERSIONS: A member was entitled to express an opinion in the House about the actions of another member, 3226 (Mr Duncan).

POINTS OF ORDER: No point of order was involved, 2618 (Mr Coates); 3226 (Mr Duncan).

RELEVANCE: A member should speak to the bill, 712, 4448 (Mr Coates).

A member should direct his remarks to the clause before the Committee, 2372, 2373, 4224 (Mr Coates); 1990, 2052, 3959 (Mr Duncan).

Although a member speaking to an amendment should confine his remarks to it, this does not preclude some reference to the relevant clause of the bill, 4241 (Mr Coates).

Interruptions disorderly, 2506.

Legislative Council:
Chairman of Committees, Expression of goodwill of members, 4493.
Temporary Chairman of Committees, Business of the Committee, 4493.

Procedure: The right of members would be preserved to debate the various clauses of a bill should they agree to suspension of so much of the standing orders as would preclude the consideration in globo of certain amendments to the bill, 2295.

There being no objection the Chairman proposed to put the bill in parts, 2294.

Relevance: A member was requested to direct his attention to the bill, 2658; or to speak to the amendment before the Chair, 2825.

A point of order—that a member was not speaking to the clause before the Committee—was not upheld. However, the member was requested to be as brief as possible in what he was putting, 5152.

A point of order—that the Minister's remark reflected on the Deputy Leader of the Opposition—was not upheld, 5142.

Message, 1863.

Chair: When addressing the House a member should not turn his back on the Chair, 2470, 3773; an apology was accepted from a member who had inadvertently turned his back on the Chair, 3306.

A member should address the Chair, 2557, 4722, 5151.

Debate: A member was asked to clarify what he meant when he stated that he wished to "table apparatus".

A member who is addressing the House should not engage in a continuous dialogue with other members, 540, 4150.

A Minister having moved a motion debate was permitted on it, including the taking of points of order, 3766.

The Leader of the Opposition was requested to clarify what he had stated when speaking to a motion that he had moved, 3769.

Dissent: A member can debate a motion of dissent that he has moved, 3702.

A member, if he wishes, may move dissent from a ruling of the President, 3767.

A member was informed that he should confine himself to giving reasons for dissenting from a ruling given by the President; he was reminded that it was out of order to cast aspersions on the Governor, 3703.

Distinguished Visitors: The Board of Directors of the Bank of New South Wales, 1845.

Hansard: Incorporation of material in Hansard, 5174.

Interjections and Interruptions: A certain number of interjections were tolerable, but if a member addressed the Chair and did not engage in dialogue across the House he would make much more progress, 541.

Interruptions disorderly, 100, 541, 543, 545, 1410, 2465, 2466, 2469, 2525, 2555, 2557, 3291, 3784, 4010, 5183.

Members Warned: The Hon. T. E. Gordon, 2557; the Hon. J. N. Thom, 2557.

Obituaries:

Death of Her Excellency Lady Kerr, Wife of the Governor-General, 1863.
Death of the Hon. J. H. Gardiner, 10, 16, 2178.
Death of the Hon. E. K. E. Vickery, 596, 601, 3589.

Offensive and Objectional Remarks, Imputations and Aspersions: The following remark was not required to be withdrawn: "I ask honourable members not to forget that there are plenty of people in the legal profession who have not lived up to the ethics of that profession", 4637.

The Leader of the Opposition stated that in honour he was unable to withdraw a statement he had made that the President had been partial in a political sense when making a speech at a social gathering to mark the 150th Anniversary of the Legislative Council, 630.

Procedure: A member may say what he intends to move as an amendment to a clause in a bill but he may not move it at the second-reading stage, 4066.

Apart, perhaps, from a brief reference, it is not in accordance with the practice of this House to discuss what had happened in another place, 1130; a member was reminded that he should not quote from what had occurred in another place, 1131.

The President outlined the procedure for voting on the second reading of a bill in respect of which two amendments had been moved, 4736.

Questions without Notice: A member should confine himself to asking a question and should not make a statement or other explanations, 146, 303, 1278, 1518, 3495.

It was disorderly for a member to attempt to give information while a Minister was replying to a question without notice, 4356.

A Minister was entitled to answer a question as he saw fit, 4356.

A point of order was upheld that a question was the same as one that had already been ruled out of order, 5136.

It would be in order to ask a question related to a matter of Government policy provided it was not connected with a decision of the House in the previous week. The Leader of the Opposition having restated a question that the President had ruled out of order. Mr President then ruled that apparently the question was not related to a decision reached by the House in the previous week, and therefore was in order, 5138.

Procedure in relation to questions for reply by Ministers in another place, q., 1019.

Mr President upheld a point of order that a question asked was contrary to standing orders in that it reflected upon a decision made by the House within the past few days. The question was disallowed, 5134.

The President would not alter his ruling that a question was out of order, 5137.

Relevance: A member was reminded to keep to the bill, 1353, 2873.

Royalty: Death of His Royal Highness, the Duke of Gloucester, 145, 1013.

Senate Vacancy: Resignation of Senator the Hon. L. K. Murphy, Q.C.; message in relation to joint sitting of both Houses, 3765.

A Minister had given two reasons for a point of order, 3697; the President could see no reason why the Minister should not state all his reasons for his point of order and the President would rule on them, 3698.

The ordinary rules of debate applying to the taking of points of order—that a member may speak once—would apply. However, as a member wished to make a personal explanation contending that he had been misquoted, that would be permitted, 3700; the member had said enough to explain the substance of what he sought to put, 3701.

The President detailed his reasons for upholding a point of order that the House had not yet been advised by a message from the Governor that a vacancy had occurred in the Senate, 3702.

A point of order—that the fact that a motion had been dealt with in another place does not make it capable of being dealt with in this House and that the motion before the House was out of order as it could not include anything that conflicted with a previous ruling given by the President—was not upheld, 3767.

Senate Vacancy, Joint Sitting: A motion could not be accepted that the President act as President of the Joint Sitting, 3994.

Interruption, 3997, 4006.

Order for removal of a member, 4002.

The President had heard enough on a point of order, 4002.

Rules for the Joint Sitting of the two Houses, 4002, 4005.

Nominations to fill vacancy, 4003.

Motion for amendment of rules, 4005.

A motion for the extension of a member's time would not be accepted, 4007.

No point of privilege was involved, 4009.

A point of order could not be entertained while a division was in progress, 4009.

Members would remain seated during a division, 4010.

Election of C. E. Bunton, Esq., 4061.
