ACTING-SPEAKERS AND TEMPORARY CHAIRMEN OF COMMITTEES:

J. A. CLOUGH, ESQ.:

Appointment, 122.

K. O'CONNELL, ESQ.:

Appointment, 122.

As Acting-Speaker:

Documents: A member was required to identify a document to which he referred, 6573.

Interjections, Interruptions and Disorder: The proceedings are not enhanced when members who do not have the call engage in debate, 3452.

Members were directed to cease interjecting, 4123, 6572; and to permit debate to proceed decorously, 4123.

The following members were called to order by name: Mr Akister, 4124; Mr Arblaster, 3468; Mr Cavalier, 661; Mr Curran, 4124; Mr Day, 4123; Mr McIlwaine, 661; Mr Pickard, 2349, 2350.

Points of Order: 5417, 5419, 5420, 6786.

Relevance: Remarks must be relevant to the question before the Chair, 5417.

In speaking to cognate measures, a member should make his remarks relevant to the general debate rather than confine them to a specific bill, 5420.

ACTING-SPEAKERS AND TEMPORARY CHAIRMEN OF COMMITTEES (continued):

As Temporary Chairman of Committees:

Interjections, Interruptions and Disorder: A member addressing the Chair should be heard in silence, 6975; and the Chair delivered a general exhortation to order, 6787.

The following members were called to order by name: Mr J. H. Brown, 6783; Mr Cameron, 6785.

Point of Order: Disallowed, 6787.

Relevance: Remarks must be relevant to the question before the Chair, 6786.

Appointment, 122.

As Acting-Speaker:

Debate: A member must not read a speech, but may refer to copious notes, 1708, 1711. It is difficult sometimes to determine whether a member is reading a speech, 1711; and members are expected to be aware of and to comply with the practices of the House in that respect, 1708.

A member may not anticipate debate on another motion, 1220.

Documents: A member who wishes to quote from a document must identify it, 1228.

Interjections, Interruptions and Disorder: Members were directed to cease interjecting and interrupting, 1231, 1560, 3688; and to reduce the level of conversation, 3688.

The following members were called to order by name: Mr Anderson, 1558; Mr Cameron, 3688; Mr Jackson, 1560; Mr Petersen, 3688.

Offensive and Objectionable Remarks, Imputations and Aspersions: The following expressions were required to be withdrawn: “... that would be a deliberate lie”, 6013; “The (member) has become most garrulous since having too much to drink during the dinner recess”, 6013.

Points of Order: Upheld, 1228, 1708, 6009; or upheld in part, 6952. Disallowed, 1711.

Procedure: A member must address the Chair, 3688.

A member is not permitted to charge another member except by way of substantive motion, 6009, 6010.

The following members were called to order by name or warned: Mr Brown, 6982; Mr Bruxner, 6982; Mr Cameron, 4315; Mr Sheahan, 3030.

Offensive and Objectionable Remarks, Imputations and Aspersions: Members may not use the occasion of a debate on amendments made to a bill by the Legislative Council to attack the upper House, 7004.

Procedure (see also Debate): In Committee of the Whole it is not permissible to question why a bill has been referred for consideration and report. The Committee’s task is to consider clause by clause the bill made by the Minister when replying at the second reading stage, 6383. A member who has circulated a lengthy amendment to a provision that is not relevant to the subject of a bill is before the Committee before discussing it, 6347.

In Committee a member may not canvass generally matters raised in the second reading debate, 3033, 3034, 5010, 6383, 6712; for a member who wishes to discuss such matters should do so at that stage, 3034, 5716. Discussion must be confined to the clause under consideration or to remarks made by the Minister when replying at the second reading stage, 6383. A member who defies this ruling will be directed to resume his seat, 3033.

A member must wait until the relevant part of a bill is before the Committee before discussing it, 6347.

A member may not move that a clause be deleted, but may speak and vote against its inclusion, 3029.

A member who wishes to move an amendment must do so before speaking to it, 5408; and must move the amendment in precise terms, 5394.

It is not competent for a member to move an amendment to a provision that is not dealt with in the bill before the Committee, 5412, 5579. Other procedures are available for effecting such amendments, 5412.

The Committee having negatived an amendment to a provision of a bill, it is not competent for the member who moved it, or for any other member, to propose a further amendment to the same provision, 5397.

A member who has circulated a lengthy amendment that has been widely discussed need not rend it when moving for its adoption, 5409; unless objection be taken to that procedure, 5409.

An amendment for the insertion of a new clause in a bill is considered after all of the other provisions have been dealt with by the Committee, 6977; but a proposal to insert a new paragraph in an existing clause is dealt with when that clause is proposed, 6978.

If there be objection to considering some clauses together, the Chair may propose them as one question and allow debate on them separately, 6353.

A member was permitted to withdraw an amendment, 6978.

In debating amendments made by the Legislative Council, members must confine their remarks to those amendments, and may not use the occasion to make an attack on the upper House, 7004.

It is not the responsibility of the Chair to ascertain whether members require a division; they must make their wish clear, 5398.

The result of a vote having been declared on the voices, a member may not call for a division, 5398.

Relevance: Remarks must be relevant to the question before the Chair, 2572, 5402, 5716, 6347, 6712; and must be confined to that question, 3029, 3034.

A distinction is to be made between irrelevant observations and arguments founded on false premises, for it is permissible to debate the latter, 5010.

Sub Judice Rule: A matter that is the subject of a coronial inquiry is sub judice, 2572.

DEPUTY-SPEAKER, MR (T. J. CAHILL, ESQ.)

Address in Reply: Debate on the motion for the adoption of the Address in Reply should not be used to attack other members, 432, 451.

Adjournment (see also Special Adjournment): Traditionally this debate is wide ranging, but the standing orders must be observed, and members may not use the occasion to debate hypothetical questions, 7300. Arguments advanced must go to the question whether the House should adjourn, 7301.

In speaking to the motion for the adjournment of the House a member may discuss any one matter of local or general interest; but he may not use the occasion to make a personal attack on another member, 6806.
Chair: It is the duty of the Chair to require adherence to the standing orders, 7300. The Chair will treat members fairly, 6126; and is confident that they will observe its rulings, 7300.

A member may not canvass a ruling by the Chair, 1457, 2894, 7300; reflect on a decision of the Chair, 6806; or disobey a direction given by the Chair, 456, 6181, 7300.

A member who objects to a ruling must follow proper procedures, 2894; and a member who disobeys a direction given by the Chair will be removed from the Chamber, 6181.

A member who reflected on a decision of the Chair was required to withdraw his remarks, 6806.

The Chair cannot be expected to tolerate continued disorderly behaviour, and will not permit disruption of proceedings, 3681.

The Chair should not be asked to endorse a member's remarks, 7300.

It is not for the Chair to determine that a member should refrain from criticizing a person who is not a member of Parliament, 6178.

Debate (see also Procedure): Rulings on the right of free speech of members are not in conflict with rulings on the means by which allegations and imputations of improper conduct, charges or innuendoes against other members are to be dealt with, 456.

By taking a point of order a member may not raise a matter that should be raised in debate, 634.

In debating a question, a member may not reflect upon a decision of the House, 5585.

In exercising freedom of speech a member must accept full responsibility for his remarks. It is not for the Chair to determine that a member should refrain from criticizing persons who are not members of Parliament, 6178.

Documents (see also Hansard): A member may not quote at length from reports, 6126; or from newspaper articles or editorials in journals. He may make brief reference to them, 1974, 3854, 4171; but must identify them or any other documents to which he wishes to refer, 647, 878, 3854, 4173, 5767, 5768. To allow a member to quote at length from documents and newspapers would be to give authors, editors and reporters a voice in Parliament, 3854, 4171.

Members may refer to copious notes, 4175.

Hansard (see also Documents): It is not permissible for a member other than a Minister to have material incorporated unless it be of a statistical nature, 6126.

A member who wishes to have material incorporated should first consult the Speaker in his chambers; but one objection is sufficient to prevent the incorporation, 6126; and a member was denied leave, 1024, 1026.

Interjections, Interruptions and Disorder: All interjections are disorderly, and some are most disorderly, 1597; for the standing orders apply at all times, 3189; and a member addressing the Chair should be heard in silence, 3186, 3680, 6780. Members, therefore, should not interject or interrupt, 449, 876, 1438, 1597, 1869, 3186, 3187, 3189, 3671, 3680, 3681, 4231, 6942, 7106; or converse audibly, 1023, 1984, 3680, 3681, 5323; but should seek the call if they wish to speak, 1452, 1976; or should leave the Chamber, 1023; and should do so quietly, 5323.

A member given the call should address the Chair, 1026, 3673, 3989; and ignore interjections, 667, 1026, 1869, 3989, 4456.

Members who continue to interject will be dealt with firmly, 1438, 1597, 3681, 7106; as will members who persist in conversing loudly, making a noise or disturbance, 3187, 3681; or indulging in other disorderly behaviour, 3681.

This applies when the Chair delivers a general exhortation to order, 6780; and infringements will result in the offending member or members being removed, 6942.

A member who has unlimited time in which to debate an issue should not attempt to continue his remarks by way of interjection, 3671.

The following members were called to order by name, or were warned: Mr J. A. Clough, 1024, 1026; Mr Crabtree, 1455; Mr Gordon, 1579; Mr Fisher, 4231; Mr McIlwaine, 3673; Mr Mochalski, 3673; Mr Moore, 1024; Mr Ryan, 6725; Mr Schipp, 667, 2077; Mr Singleton, 3706.

The Chair directed the removal of Mr McDonald, but at the request of the party leader, accepted an apology and allowed Mr McDonald to return to the Chamber, 3681, 3683.

DEPUTY-SPEAKER, MR (T. J. CAHILL, ESQ.) (continued):

Judiciary: A member may not cast aspersions on a member of the judiciary, and may make charges only on a substantive motion, 7307.

Offensive and Objectionable Remarks, Imputations and Aspersions: Imputations, allegations of improper conduct, charges or innuendoes against another member may be made only upon a substantive motion appropriately worded for the purpose, 432, 451, 456, 2077, 6806, 7308; and rulings on the freedom of speech of members are not in conflict with that requirement, 456.

If one member takes exception to the remarks of another member, the onus is on the member offended to seek the withdrawal of those remarks, 7301; and if he does so, the Chair will require a withdrawal, 7324; but members should not be too sensitive about remarks made about them in the cut and thrust of debate, 7301.

A member may not ask for the withdrawal of remarks about another member; and a member who is offended by the remarks of another and wishes to have them withdrawn must make that request immediately, 6182.

In debating a question a member may not reflect upon a decision of the House, 5585.

A member was required to withdraw an allegation that a Minister had attempted to cover up criminal activities, 7306.

The following expressions also were required to be withdrawn:

- "... all Liberal Pasty members are at the bar", 3169; "Who is that drunken Jont over there?", 3169; "You are a liar", 4150; "We all know of his ... great love for communism", 6181; "... everything (he) said in the House today on that matter was a lie", 7304.

Points of Order: A member may not debate a matter by taking a point of order, 634.

Points order upheld, or upheld in part: 452, 451, 647, 878, 1974, 2894, 3166, 3673, 5681, 4171, 4172, 4175, 4451, 4452, 4456, 4460, 6178, 6180, 6181, 6725, 6798, 6805, 7122, 7297, 7301, 7304, 7306, 7307, 7308.

Points of order disallowed: 354, 446, 634, 2191, 4175, 4456, 6178, 6776, 7300.

Points of order not involved, 448, 3169, 5590, 6182, 6183, 7301.

Procedure (see also Debate): Members must address the Chair, 3673.

DEPUTY-SPEAKER, MR (T. J. CAHILL, ESQ.) (continued):

The standing orders do not empower the Chair to direct a member to deliver a speech from a particular part of the Chamber, 6776.

A member was told that because of a technical fault, the light used to show that three minutes of his speaking time remained had not operated, and that at that stage he had two minutes in which to conclude his remarks, 1997. A subsequent speaker in the debate was told that the Chair would inform him when three minutes of his allotted time remained, 1997.

Leave was granted to take the third reading of a bill immediately after the second reading debate had concluded, 3188.

Relevance: Members must make their remarks relevant to the question before the Chair, 451, 1457, 1537, 1974, 2077, 2191, 2894, 3166, 3298, 3673, 3681, 4171, 4172, 4451, 4452, 4456, 4460, 5572, 5585, 6178, 6725, 6806, 7122, 7297, 7298, 7299, 7300, 7301, 7306; and a member who is permitted to diverge from that question may be asked to return to it, 7122. A member who defies a direction to so confine his remarks will be required to resume his seat, 7299.

In debating a bill a member may discuss the general principles involved, but is not permitted to engage in a wide-ranging discussion of matters not covered by the order of leave given, 4172; and a member who is permitted to reply to matters raised in a wide-ranging debate should be brief in doing so, 3681.

In debating a motion that would, if adopted, involve expenditure, a member may make passing reference to other projects that could be given preference, but should not continue to debate the matter negatively, and must confine his remarks to the question before the Chair, 6180.

Special Adjournment (see also Adjournment): In debating a motion for a special adjournment of the House, members may refer briefly to matters that they believe require the continuation of the sitting, 7306; but may not use the occasion to make personal attacks on members, 7308. A member who defies a direction by the Chair in this respect will be required to resume his seat, 7308.

Tedious Repetition: A member may not indulge in tedious repetition, 6798.

Speaker, Mr (The Hon. Lawrence Borthwick Kelly):

Address in Reply: It is the practice of the House to proceed with the debate with a minimum of interruption, but it is competent for a member to raise a matter of urgency, for the House decides whether such matters should be discussed, 338.

A member may not use the Address-in-Reply debate to attack another member, 550, 1017.

A member who has spoken in the Address-in-Reply debate may, during its currency, raise a matter on the adjournment when a member who has spoken is precluded from speaking on the adjournment motion, 691; and it is reasonable to expect a member who has not spoken in the Address-in-Reply debate to raise a matter on the adjournment when a member who has spoken is precluded from doing so, 577. A member who was listed to speak in the Address-in-Reply debate was ruled out of order when he attempted to speak on the adjournment motion, 691.

Presentation, 1029, 1087.

Adjournment (see also Special Adjournment, Adjournment (S.O. 49) and Address in Reply): In speaking to the adjournment motion, a member may raise only one subject, 2899. Other members may not debate that subject, 5863, 5864.

A member may take advantage of the fact that the time available to debate the motion for the adjournment of the House has not expired and to use that time to raise a matter, if he thinks that is the most effective way to get a result, 2382.

When the mover of the motion for the adjournment has spoken in reply, the debate is concluded, 6027.

Adjournment (S.O. 49) (see also Adjournment and Special Adjournment): The prior approval given to a member by the Speaker in chambers to move for the adjournment of the House under Standing Order 49 is provisional and is subject to review after argument in the House, 6114.

The subject-matter of the motion must be specific, of recent occurrence, and of sufficient public importance to warrant urgent consideration, 3408, 6114. The motion must be based on fact, and if its terms are found not to be in accordance with the facts, the debate may not continue unless the motion is amended. The mover may seek the consent of the House to amend the motion to make it accord with the facts, 3408.

A matter was held not to be of sufficient public importance to warrant urgent consideration, 6114.

Anticipation of Debate (see Debate).

Assembly, Legislative: The Chair will review the problems of acoustics and the system of amplification in the $31-amber, 2540.

Chair (see also Dissent and Procedure): The Chair is the servant of the House, 3408; but it controls the House, by applying the standing orders, the practices of the House, and the decisions of previous Speakers to ensure its smooth operation, 3408.

The Chair does not enter into debate, 543.

It is the prerogative of the Chair to decide who should be given the call, and in what order members should be given the call, 2490. When members are given the call, the Chair is responsible for the timing of their speeches, 4237.

Members must address the Chair, 522; they are required to observe the directions of the Chair, 1873, 2866; and they may not seek to advise the Chair, 1027. They must not reflect on the Chair, 622, 627, 6194, 6372; take a point of order on a direction given by the Chair, 124; or canvass a ruling, 1873, 4535, 6376, 5378; but the Chair offered to discuss matters with a member privately, 627.

A member who reflects on the Chair is liable to be named, and may be suspended for more than one day, as is a member who does not take cognizance of the Chair, 2318; particularly when the Chair rises to speak, 1527.

The Speaker remains seated when dealing with procedural matters at the conclusion of question time so that members will not be prevented from leaving the Chamber. They should leave quietly, 417, 1529. If they do not do so, the Chair will stand, 417, 1529.

The Chair will attempt to ensure that all members can hear and follow debate, and will review the problems of acoustics and the system of amplification in the Chamber, 2540.
12th August, 1980, to 14th May, 1981

Speaker, Mr (The Hon. Lawrence Borthwick Kelly) (continued):

A member who is offended by remarks made in debate may ask that they be withdrawn. It is not for the Chair to decide whether remarks are derogatory, and the Chair would be interfering with the right of free speech if it were to direct that everything a member said in debate should be withdrawn at the request of another member on the ground that it was offensive, 1324.

A member who has foreshadowed an amendment to a bill may refer briefly at the second reading stage to anomalies in the law that his foreshadowed amendment would be aimed at correcting, but he must leave detailed argument until the Committee stage, 5222.

A question seeking information about matters that may be debated on consideration of the Budget or the Estimates does not infringe the rule prohibiting anticipation of debate, 2058.

In moving for the disallowance of a regulation a member must confine his remarks to showing why the regulation should be disallowed, and should be able in the time available to refer to aspects of the original debate on the legislation under which the regulation was drawn without delivering an address in the style of a second reading speech, 5365.

A member may not include in a motion for disallowance of regulations matters covered by orders as distinct from regulations, 5536; nor raise matters not dealt with specifically in the regulations he moves to have disallowed, 5536, 5540, 5541; but he may refer briefly to matters raised by the Minister in debating the motion, 5541.

Disallowance of Regulations (see Debate).

Dissent (see Chair).

Distinguished Visitors: The Hon. M. Qionibaravi, C.M.G., Speaker of the Fijian Parliament and President of the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association; and Mr John Davis, Consul General for the United States of America, 1929.

Members of the National Conference of State Legislators of the United States of America, 2530.

Madame Simone Veil, President of the European Parliament, and some members of that Parliament, 4296.

Divisions: The time for a member to call for a division is when the Chair pauses after declaring the result of the vote on the voices, 7140.

Speaker, Mr (the Hon. Lawrence Borthwick Kelly) (continued):

The standing orders apply during divisions, and members must conduct themselves in a proper manner at all times in the House. 5653.

Documents (see also Debate and Hansard): Following a resolution of the House that a document be printed, the Clerk sends it to the Government Printer. It is not incumbent on the House to make the document available to members immediately, 123.

It is not competent for a private member to table papers, 220, 417, 6504; and the Chair can do nothing more than give a member an opportunity of making the documents available to other members, 417, 6504. It is unfortunate if a member says he will make documents available but does not do so. He might be approached by members who are concerned to see them, 220.

A member may refer to parts of a newspaper article without being required to vouch for the authenticity of the matters to which he refers, 5762.

A member may quote from a document or newspaper, but it is not in the spirit of debate to read lengthy passages from it, 1314, 2093, 4914; for a member's speech must be of his own composition, linking his points together, 1314. It should not be necessary for a member to read from an article of his own composition, 4916.

A member must accept responsibility for statements contained in an article or other document he wishes to read, 4916.

A member may not refer to facts in a document incorporated, 123, 220, 417, 6504; and the Chair can do nothing more than give a member an opportunity of making the documents available to other members, 417, 6504. It is unfortunate if a member says he will make documents available but does not do so. He might be approached by members who are concerned to see them, 220.

A member may refer to parts of a newspaper article without being required to vouch for the authenticity of the matters to which he refers, 5762.

It should not be necessary for a member to read from an article of his own composition, 4916.

A member must accept responsibility for statements contained in an article or other document he wishes to read, 4916.

A member may not refer to facts in a document which are the subject of a court case, 1314.

Elections (see also Parliament): Joint Committee of the Legislative Council and Legislative Assembly upon Public Funding for Elections: Resignations of J. C. Bruxner and T. A. Fischer, 2964.

Governor: Appointment: Presentation of Address, 3940, 3960.

Governor's Speech: Incorporation in Votes and Proceedings, 124.

Speaker, Mr (the Hon. Lawrence Borthwick Kelly) (continued):

Grievance Debate (see also Debate and Procedure): The Chair puts the question, That grievances be noted, 2086.

A member may not, under the guise of raising a grievance, debate a matter that the House has decided was not one of urgency, 4535.

Hansard (see also Documents): A member may not seek to support a personal explanation by reading lengthy passages from Hansard, 618.

A member who first consults the Speaker and obtains his approval, may seek the leave of the House to have a document incorporated in Hansard, 1427, 1551; but a member may be refused permission to have a document incorporated, 6019.

Interjections, Interruptions and Disorder (see also Chair and Debate): When a member is given the call he should address the Chair, 555, 1281; ignore interjections, 258, 1281, 1361, 2058, 2447, 2477; not incite them, 6722; and direct himself to the question he seeks to ask or answer, 258, 2058.

A lively and robust parliament is a natural consequence of a living, vibrant democracy, but it is essential that a fair hearing be guaranteed to every member, 1877. Vibrancy does not extend to noisy, disorderly conduct, 1877, 1931; and therefore members should not interject or interrupt. 103, 106, 151, 215, 223, 248, 340, 409, 415, 555, 556, 610, 617, 618, 831, 832, 833, 834, 1080, 1082, 1115, 1159, 1280, 1311, 1321, 1323, 1523, 1521, 1578, 1643, 1651, 1684, 1756, 1828, 1872, 1873, 1876, 1877, 1930, 1982, 1987, 2057, 2059, 2218, 2536, 2539, 2854, 3616, 3617, 3629, 3825, 3833, 4107, 4116, 4195, 5529, 5774, 6022, 6380, 6515, 6721, 6750, 6919, 7075, 7313; but should allow the member addressing the Chair to be heard in silence. 700, 244, 340, 501, 617, 1311, 2198, 3616, 3633, 3771, 5527, 5529, 5533, 5774, 6721; for interjections are disorderly, 407, 1087, 1311, 1684, 4407; and discourteous, 103.

If one member disagrees with the remarks being made by another member, he must not interject but should seek the call. 151, 199, 203, 348, 373, 506, 825, 1870, 1877, 1979, 1980, 2162, 2198, 2204, 2662, 4116, 4194, 6190, 6191, 6750, 7313; or wait and exercise a right of reply, 3311, 5538, 6021.

Interjections reduce the time available for debate, or for asking and answering questions, 412, 1873; and extend the time needed by members to conclude their remarks, 244, 409.

As the standing orders provide that members must not converse or make any noise or disturbance while a member is debating, 835, 1684, 5922; or while a bill, order or other matter is being read or opened, members should reduce the level of conversation, 213, 2152, 1836, 1520, 1985, 2064, 2157, 2172, 22441, 3494, 5357, 5934, 6341, 6380, 7073, 7142: and members who wish to engage in conversation should leave the Chamber, 5284, 5774, 5934, 6341; and should do so quietly, 690.

If a member persists in causing a noise or disturbance after the Chair has called for order, or interjects continually, or is called to order more than three times, he shall be deemed guilty of disorderly conduct, 1311, 1323, 1369, 1835, 1936, 2540; or naming him, 2854, 2857, 6342; as it appears that a member is distressed by noise, which must be offensive to other members and to persons in the public gallery, 2540.

If, because of the lateness of the hour, the application of which at the end of a session results in the exclusion of the offender from the House until the next session of Parliament, 3173, 3837.

The conduct of members has a great bearing on the respect that the public has for Parliament, 1877. If members were more tolerant, paid more attention to the member addressing the Chair, and desisted from interjecting, they would reduce the level of noise, which must be offensive to other members and to persons in the public gallery, 2540.

SPEAKER, Mr (The Hon. Lawrence Borthwick Kelly) (continued):

A member who disregarded a direction by the Chair was directed to discontinue his speech, 2866.

If members refrained from interjecting, a member with a voice production difficulty would not need amplification to the extent complained of, 2539.

Sometimes interjections improve a speech, and the Chair will intervene only when it appears that a member is distressed by them, 6372.

Visitors to the public gallery will be removed if they fail to maintain order, 3127.

The following members were called to order by name, or otherwise warned: Mr Akister, 4157, 5282; Mr Arblaster, 831, 2365, 3836, 5609, 6195; Mr Bannon, 1756, 5774; Mr Barraclough, 151, 336, 496, 825, 826, 1521, 1545, 1829, 1930, 1931, 1988, 2058, 2164, 2535, 3018, 4296, 4297, 4405, 5355, 6375; Mr Bedford, 223; Mr Booth, 107, 6282; Mr Boyd, 96, 1322, 3622, 4154, 4295, 4407, 4995, 5154; Mr Bereton, 215; Mr Brewer, 4295, 5520; Mr J. H. Brown, 1828, 2866, 5289; Mr Cameron, 116, 345, 406, 412, 413, 617, 834, 1361, 1651, 2216, 2217, 2319, 2448, 2534, 2538, 2540, 2853, 3263, 3836, 4500, 4403, 5517, 5530, 6190, 6514, 6922; Mr Caterson, 345, 627, 1994, 2206, 2364, 2855, 3634, 6191; Mr Cavalier, 244, 3622, 3834, 4194, 4435, 6168; Mr J. A. Clough, 408, 618, 619, 1366, 1367, 1368, 1398, 2540, 7075; Mr Crabtree, 211, 617, 1309, 1876, 5527; Mr Day, 1870, 1898, 3630, 4399; Mr Dowd, 334, 410, 954, 1079, 1365, 1367, 1834, 1931, 2538, 2859, 3018, 3022, 3645, 3828, 4108, 4399, 4402, 4532, 4911, 7068, 7313; Mr Duric, 1116; Mr Einfeld, 615; Mr Face, 203, 690, 1366, 7078; Mr Fisher, 417, 495, 1828, 4406; Mrs Foot, 338; Mr Freundenstein, 3738; Mr Greiner, 4196, 6512; Mr Haigh, 2858; Mr Healey, 495, 833; Mr Jackson, 373, 621, 1561, 1562; Mr Jensen, 5282; Mr Johnson, 4507; Mr Johnstone, 550, 3494; Mr King, 7081, 7217; Mr McCarthy, 121; Mr McDonald, 199, 827, 1979, 1982, 2085, 2319, 3062, 3025, 4195, 5367; Mr McIlwaine, 3829, 6721, 6723; Mr Maher, 5774; Mr Mallam, 421; Mr Mason, 200, 335, 496, 605, 619, 620, 627, 825, 833, 961, 1080, 1321, 1684, 1755, 1759, 1835, 1938, 2057, 2058, 2162, 2316, 2531, 2536, 2540, 3257, 3261, 3835, 3836, 4407, 4504, 4907, 5529, 5825, 5922, 6379, 6380, 6534, 7312, 7313; Mr Mochalski, 6194, 6195, 6994; Mr Moore, 1530, 1794, 2536, 2662, 3133, 3134, 3834,

3835, 3836, 5911, 6102; Mr Morris, 331; Mr Mulock, 3632, 3738; Mr Murray, 495; Mr O’Connell, 4155; Mr Osborne, 965; Mr Petersen, 555, 4907; Mr Pickard, 492, 622, 826, 827, 1078, 1876, 1931, 1936, 2537, 2851, 2855, 4403, 4404, 5527, 5528, 5533; Mr Punch, 1521, 1755, 1829, 1873, 1932, 2159, 3951, 4516, 5519, 6282, 6921, 7080, 7314; Mr Ramsay, 4154; Mr Rozzoli, 1931; Mr Ryan, 348, 2207, 6342, 6720, 6722; Mr Schipp, 107, 1521, 1796, 2204, 2536, 3127, 3130, 3482; Mr Sheahan, 1216, 1289, 1455, 4908; Mr Singleton, 3951, 4126, 5522; Mr Smith, 121, 257, 2855, 5311, 5646; Mr K. J. Stewart, 495; Mr Sullivan, 6140, 6190, 6342; Mr Taylor, 615; Mr Wade, 2207; Mr Walker, 203, 1834, 2537, 3833; Mr Whelan, 1836, 6187, 6515; Mr Wotton, 4155; Mr Wran, 1578, 5937.

The following members were removed: Mr Cameron, 2540; Mr J. A. Clough, 1369.

Judiciary: Reflections may not be made upon a member of the judiciary, 99, 1158; or his judicial position, or any decisions that he gives, but a member may use the right of free speech in Parliament to criticize a judgment, 1158.

Ministerial Stafenzants: In replying to a ministerial statement the Leader of the Opposition may refer to conclusions based on fact and criticize the policy enunciated in the statement, 7315; show that the policy will be ineffective, and put forward alternative policy, 7316. The only procedure to be observed is that his remarks must be relevant to the ministerial statement, 7315.

Motions (see also Debate and Procedure): The House may pass any motion that it chooses, 5918.

Offensive and Objectionable Remarks, Imputations and Aspersions: Though the House should be vibrant and lively, no member should use offensive or unbecoming words in referring to any member of either House, 3629; or make imputations of improper motives about, or personal reflections on, any other member, 549, 617; and a member may not reflect upon a decision of the House, 5652, 5994.

The Chair will require offensive personal remarks to be withdrawn if the member at whom they are directed objects to them, 3624, 5278; but he must be specific about them. 6921.

A member may not ask for the withdrawal of remarks made about another member, 1077; and, generally speaking, remarks addressed to a group of members are not regarded as a reflection upon an individual, 1160, 5289.

The Chair is not empowered to require the withdrawal of remarks made about persons outside the House, 3624.

A member who wishes to charge another must do so by way of substantive motion, 384, 420, 548, 550, 1017, 1873, 3622, 3834, 4118, 4535; and the Chair would consider a request to refer to the Standing Orders Committee a proposal that a privileges committee be established to report upon and penalize members who abuse parliamentary privilege by making unjustified personal attacks, 7069.

However, all members must expect to be the target of rugged and forthright criticism, 204, 239, 1086, 3645, 5286, 5534; especially when another member is replying to statements made by them, 204. This is to be expected in the thrust and parry of debate, 239; and they should not be too protective of their dignity, 1086, 6722; and so allow themselves to become intolerant of all criticism, 5286, 5534. If they wish to object, it is for them, not for the Chair, to ask that the remarks be withdrawn, 239. The Chair will decide what is improper and what is fair, 549. In any event, a member offended may, at the appropriate time, make a personal explanation to correct misstatements about him, 6921.

When a member criticizes the performance of the Government in dealing with a specific problem and refers to a Minister by name, he is referring to the administration of that Minister’s portfolio, and is in order. The Minister must accept the criticism, 2478.

Sometimes it is difficult for members to contribute to a debate without making reference to members of the upper House. They must be careful in making such references, and a member was asked to withdraw a remark of that type, 3629.

Members may not call one another liars, 617, for although the word “lie” does not seem to have the strength that it had formerly, its use in referring to another member is unparliamentary, 627. Examples of such use are “lies”, “half lies”, “He is a liar”, “You are a liar”, “That is a deliberate lie” and “He is telling lies”, and these ex-

Speaker, Mr (The Hon. Lawrence Borthwick Kelly) (continued):

Expressions must be withdrawn, 549, 1077, 1935, 1994. It is a serious charge that a member has told "a contemptible lie", 627. However, the practice of seeking the withdrawal of any statement in which a member uses the word lies has become ridiculous, and an assertion that a statement amounts to lying, or that a member has told lie after lie, or that a member had told lies, will not be regarded as offensive, 5286, 5916, 5920.

The Chair had considered asking a member to withdraw an allegation that another member had lied, but as the member reflected upon was present and did not ask for a withdrawal, the Chair did not intervene, 5278.

Upon objection being taken to the expression "absolute lie" and a request being made for a withdrawal, the Chair said, although it might be thought that the member who used the expression had stated the fact, it was unparliamentary, and the member should be able to find other words to express the same sentiment, 2486.

A member was directed to withdraw a statement that the Attorney-General had lied, but as the member reflected upon the fact, it was unparliamentary, and the member should be able to find other words to express the same sentiment, 2486.

A member was asked to explain a remark at which offence was taken, 3645.

The following expressions were required to be withdrawn: "(He) ... stamps himself as a liar twice", 1935; "... a Farrago of lies", 420; "He is a liar", 2216; "... 618; (he) lied and misled the House", 627; "... (he uttered) a contemptible lie", 627; "... the lie", 1077; "It is a deliberate lie ...", 1899; "... straight out lies", 4114; "It (that) is a lie", 3635, 4407, 6379; "(He) went round the world telling lies", 5916; "You are telling lies", 5920; "... an absolute lie ...", 2486; "The (member) ... told deliberate lies", 2899; "You are a liar", 6534.

... Who were these two members of the Liberal Party who ran round defending the Nukan Hand group and defaming their colleagues? All members ... would know that they were the honourable member for Kirribilli and the former member for Maitland", 1323; "... Parliament (see also Elections): It is expected that a vibrant democracy will have a lively, vibrant Parliament, but the conduct of members has a great bearing on the respect that the public has for the legislature, and a disorderly assembly worries the public more than is realized. An essential feature of the conduct of the business of the House is that at the end of the day a fair hearing has been guaranteed to members who have addressed it, 1877.

Retirement of Mr R. E. A. Ward, Clerk of the Legislative Assembly, 3941.

Appointment of Mr D. L. Wheeler, Clerk of the Legislative Assembly, 3942.

Personal Explanations: With the leave of the House a member may make a personal explanation, 246, 247, 396, 416, 457, 616, 1085, 1086, 1761, 2544, 3836, 3837, 4411, 4515, 4876, 5532, 5755, 5935; and to assist the House in deciding whether leave should be given, a member must show the need to make a personal explanation, 1085, 1086, 1761, 4515, 5532, 5756; and say to which matter the explanation will be directed, 5935; or by what statement his character was impugned, 5532.

A member who is given leave to make a personal explanation may explain briefly how he has been maligned, how his character has been reflected upon or impugned, 617, 622, 1086, 1761, 5532, 5753, 5936; how his position as a member of Parliament has been affected, 1086, 1761; or how he has been misrepresented or misquoted, 622. He must come quickly to the point, 622, 5533, 5937; and deal with it alone, 247, 4908, 5937.

The time to make a personal explanation is when the question before the Chair has been dealt with, 240.

Members should not be so concerned with their dignity that they will not tolerate some reflections upon them. The business of the

House would be seriously impeded if members were permitted to make personal explanations every time their integrity was questioned, 5533. A challenge to a member's statements does not constitute a reflection upon the integrity and character of that member, 622.

One objection is sufficient to deny a member the opportunity to make a personal explanation, 1086, 3836, 5532.

Though a member in making a personal explanation may quote remarks made in an earlier debate, he may not enter into debate, 620, 622, 5937; continue debate, 617, 621, 1086, 5533, 5534, 5936; or introduce new matter, 3140.

In making a personal explanation a member may not read lengthy passages from Hansard, 619, 620.

A member may not make a personal explanation by way of interjection, 199; or under the guise of taking a point of order, 1161.

A member was asked whether he was making a personal explanation, 239.

Point of Explanation: Under Standing Order 139 it is permissible for a member to explain himself in regard to some material part of his speech, but he shall not introduce new matter, and should be brief, 6742.

Points of Order: A member who wishes to take a point of order must rise and state at once that he takes a point of order, 1318.

A member must confine himself to his point of order, 1777; and not enter into debate, 2859. He may not use the procedure to trifle with the House, 2539, 6380, 7075.

A member may not take a point of order on a direction given by the Chair, 124.

A member may not speak to order if nothing is before the Chair to constitute a breach of order, and a member who persists in such behaviour will be named, 7075.

A member may not make a personal explanation under the guise of taking a point of order, 1161.

Points of order not involved: 218, 239, 265, 503, 504, 576, 826, 1756, 1836, 2163, 2382, 2484, 2534, 2540, 3256, 3617, 3823, 4156, 4198, 4237, 4998, 5282, 5697, 5774, 6380, 7075, 7084.

Privilege: Privilege is concerned with the authority, immunity and dignity of the House and its members, 522.

A member raising a matter of privilege must foreshadow a substantive motion to assist the Chair in determining whether a prima facie case exists. He is allowed ten minutes in which to establish such a case, showing how his functioning as a member of Parliament has been affected by the actions of which he complains, and must conclude his remarks by moving the foreshadowed motion. A member who fails to establish a prima facie case is not entitled to move such a motion, 522, 6295.

For the Chair to be satisfied that a prima facie case of breach of privilege has been established, there must have been disobedience to general or particular orders or rules of either House; indignities offered to the character or proceedings of Parliament; assaults or insults upon members, or reflections upon their character or conduct in Parliament; or interference with officers of the House in the discharge of their duties. The Chair must be satisfied also that the matter complained of could be said fairly and reasonably to be capable of interfering with members in the performance of their duties, or of deterring them from asking questions of Ministers, 6295.

A member was asked whether the incident giving rise to an alleged breach of privilege had occurred that day or on the previous day, 6294.

SPEAKER, MR (THE HON. LAWRENCE BORTHWICK KELLY) (continued):

It would be trifling with the House to allow a member to speak on a matter not covered by privilege, 6294.

The Chair would consider a point of order that the rule requiring a member to inform it of the terms of his proposed substantive motion be applied to all members, 6294.

A member was told that the matter of privilege he wished to raise was not sufficiently important to warrant interrupting the special business then before the House, but that he would be given an opportunity to raise it when the House was dealing with ordinary business, 112.

A matter relating to the procedures of the House is not one of privilege, 522.

Privilege was not involved, 524; and no breach of privilege had occurred, 6295.

Procedure (see also Debate, Documents, Motions and Relevance): It is the prerogative of the Chair to decide who shall be given the call, and in what order members shall be given the call, 2490.

Members must address the Chair, 522; and conduct themselves in a proper manner at all times in the House, 5653.

A member who is dissatisfied with a ruling of the Chair may move a motion of dissent, 522.

The House may pass any motion that it chooses to pass, 5918; but no question shall be submitted to the House that is substantially the same as one on which it has expressed judgment in the current SESSION, 1778.

A member who wishes to charge another member must do so by way of substantive motion, 384, 420, 548, 550, 1017, 1873, 3622, 3834, 4118, 4535: and a member who wishes to object to a remark by another member must observe the customary procedure, 2662.

No member other than a Minister may give notices of motion consecutively, except for the disallowance of regulations, rules, ordinances, by-laws, proclamations or instruments, 1262.

In debating a motion that Government business take precedence of general business, a member may refer to matters on the business paper that he believes should be dealt with in preference to Government business, 5651, 5652; or that would otherwise be dealt d with that day. He may argue that Government business should not take precedence, but may not address himself to those matters in detail, and is restricted to making passing reference to them, 2865.

A Minister may seek leave to move for the suspension of standing orders that would prevent a bill being brought in and passed through all its stages in one day; but one objection is enough to prevent the granting of leave to move such a motion, 959; or any motion of which notice has not been given, 499, 2168.

If a Minister declares a bill to be an urgent bill and copies have been circulated, the question, "That the bill be considered an urgent bill" is put forthwith, and no debate or amendment is allowed, 623, 7083. In respect of one such matter the Chair was satisfied that members had copies of a bill, 7083.

When the House has resolved as a matter of urgency to permit legislation to be dealt with other than in conformity with the standing orders, and this is followed by a motion to suspend the standing orders, a member may not move an amendment to that motion, 966.

In debating a motion for the suspension of standing orders a member should address himself to that question and is entitled to reply to some of the remarks of other members, 2172; but he must link his comments with the question before the Chair, 3172.

Upon the passage of a motion that a document be printed, the Clerk passes it to the Government Printer. It is not incumbent on the House to make the document available immediately, even though the practice is to make some documents available soon after the passage of such a motion, 123. Copies of bills are usually made available after they are introduced, but the House may proceed otherwise, 524. In respect of one matter, two copies of a bill were presented. One was to go to the Government Printer. The other was made available to members, 524.

The timing of a member's speech is controlled by the Chair, 4237. That time starts when a member is given the call, and includes any period needed to achieve order in the House, 4237.

The Chair accepted a statement that a member was leading for the Opposition, and had unspecified time, 3174.

SPEAKER, MR (THE HON. LAWRENCE BORTHWICK KELLY) (continued):

A member who complained that it had not been possible to move for an extension of time because the Chair had been ruling on a point of order was informed that such a motion must be moved before the Chair declared that a member's time had expired; even if that involved interrupting a debate on a point of order, 6378.

The Chair was concerned about the accuracy of a new timing device, 4237.

A matter involving the procedures of the House is not one of privilege, 522.

A member who wishes to take a point of order must rise and state audibly that he wishes to take a point of order, 1318.

A member must not trifle with the House in using the procedures available to him, 1761.

A member asked for a copy of an urgency motion; 960; but as a copy was unavailable, he asked that in accordance with Standing Order 153, the question be stated; and the Chair stated the question, 963.

Public Accounts Committee: Appointment of Egan, Michael Rueben, 893.

Questions without Notice (see also Sub Judice Rule): Strict rules apply to the asking of questions, 6918. A question must be in acceptable form, 492, 494, 2850, 3254, 4403, 5519. A member was allowed to reframe a question that was not in acceptable form, 490, 492, 494, 5519; or to complete a question so that the Chair could determine whether it was in acceptable form, 2858.

A member must accept responsibility for the content of his question, and a member was asked whether he could vouch for the authenticity of a newspaper report on which he appeared to base a question, 490.

A member may ask a question based on a matter referred to in a newspaper report if he accepts as factual the statements contained in that report, 5154.

A question must be brief and concise, 490, 492, 494, 950, 2447, 3254, 3958, 4508, 5280.

As the purpose of asking a question is to obtain information, 3254, it should seek information, 1152, 3958, 5519; not give it, 949, 950, 2447, 2859. It must not offer or seek an opinion, but may include sufficient facts to make clear the nature of the inquiry, 830, 949, 1518, 3253, 5157, 5280; and a repetition of some of those facts is not an abuse of the rule limiting the giving of information, 949.

A question must not be a short speech, 3254, 5157; and it must not contain a great deal of argument, 1832, 2850. The use in a question of the expression “open slather” is not argumentative, 5697.

A question may not be couched in inflammatory terms, 2850; and the Chair is concerned about questions framed in coloured language, 3254.

A member may not, under the guise of asking a question without notice, debate a matter recently decided by the House, 5519, 5696; but a question seeking information about a matter stemming from an earlier debate was allowed, 5696.

A member may not ask a question similar to a question on the Questions and Answers paper, 5363; but a Minister asked for and was given leave to answer such a question forthwith in the public interest, 5364.

A question seeking information about matters that may be debated on consideration of the Budget or of the Estimates does not infringe the rule governing anticipation of debate, 2058.

A member may address a question to a member other than a Minister, 3817, 6286, 6295; but only where the matter raised is the subject of a notice of motion on the business paper standing in the name of the member to whom the question is addressed, 6286. Question time should not be eroded by questions about members’ private affairs, 6295.

The cumulative effect of previous decisions on the orderliness of questions should not become unduly restrictive. The Chair has regard to the basic rules governing the form and content of questions, but does not consider itself bound, when interpreting those rules, to disallow a question solely on the ground that it conflicts with any previous ruling, 3254.

At all times the public interest must prevail, and if a question is important and is in the public interest, it should be allowed. Where the intention clearly is to establish whether an investigation is being carried out by the State, the Minister should be able to answer without breaching the sub judice rule, 2859.

The Chair will not entertain a point of order on a question until the question has been asked, 7075; and a member was allowed to complete his question to permit the Chair to determine whether it was in order, 2858.

All members are concerned about the erosion of question time, 1160; which occurs when questions are asked about such matters as the amplifying equipment used in the House, 1526; and when members interject, 832, 2059.

More members would be able to ask questions if there were fewer interjections, 1160. When a member asks a question, he should ignore interjections, 2447. Members should not misuse question time by asking additional questions by way of interjection, 1643.

A member who said he found it difficult to ask a question because of interjections was denied permission to start it again, 1934; though a member was asked to repeat his question as the Chair had difficulty hearing it owing to the disorderly conduct in the House, 7075.

The Chair was asked to consider a request that changes be recommended to the standing orders to require answers to have some relevance to questions, and agreed to do so, 7069.

A question was allowed, 491, 830, 949, 1518, 2858, 3254, 3958, 5154, 5696, 7075.

A question was disallowed, 490, 492, 494, 1832, 6286.

The rules governing the answering of questions are different from those governing the asking of them, for the strict rules that apply to the asking of questions do not apply to the answering of them, 6918.

An answer must be relevant to the question, 609, 610, 833, 834, 1161, 1931, 2533, 3817, 3818, 3952, 6918, 6922; and brief, 3817, 3818: but it is not the practice for the Chair to control the way in which a Minister replies, 610, 1836, 2533, 4507; unless the answer is ruled to be a ministerial statement, 2533, 3952.

A Minister is not wasting question time by continuing an answer after the time for questions has expired, 1161.

A Minister must be allowed to answer a question directed to him, 1651, 3951, and to complete it, 6922.

It is in order for a Minister to use written material to answer a question, 832; or detailed material prepared in anticipation of a question, 1836.

SPEAKER, MR (THE HON. LAWRENCE BORTHWICK KELLY) (continued):

A lengthy and detailed answer will not be ruled a ministerial statement if it does not bear on government policy, but the Chair might suggest that an answer is verging on a ministerial statement, 612; or ask the Minister to give his reply at the end of question time, 612.

Interjections extend the time taken to answer questions, 610, 832, 1160, 2854, 4195; and use up time that otherwise would be available to other members to ask questions, 1521.

As a Minister was nearing the end of his answer, a member was not permitted to restate the question to help clarify a problem of relevancy, 1162.

A Minister asked for clarification of a question, 2448.

A Member may not give opinions on the merits of a question, 3818.

A Minister was asked whether he had concluded his answer, 4194.

The time allowed for questions without notice is not eroded by replies to questions asked on previous days, 6531.

A member might have refrained from asking a question, but as he had chosen to ask it, the Minister was entitled to answer it, 6533.

A Minister was asked whether he could answer a question that was, to some extent, hypothetical, 6692.

An answer was allowed, 6531. Part of an answer was disallowed, 3818.

Quorums: The Chair was asked to exercise its discretion in favour of calling a quorum, 1027; but declined to do so, 1995.

As a quorum had been called by Mr Deputy-Speaker, the Speaker would not interfere with the decision, 1027.

Members are not required to make comments when inviting attention to the state of the House 1115.

Relevance: Remarks must be relevant to the question before the Chair, 211, 223, 228, 229, 230, 231, 234, 260, 384, 385, 407, 500, 555, 1132, 1135, 1265, 1318, 1361, 1530, 1562, 1777, 1871, 1873, 2171, 2172, 2173, 2718, 2865, 3017, 3172, 3629, 3833, 3835, 4118, 4154, 4535, 5365, 5520, 5527, 5528, 5535, 5540, 5541, 5675, 6113, 6187, 6194, 6367, 6376, 6377, 7311; though a member may canvass generally matters contained in a report from which the matter before the Chair stems, 229; and a member may reply to some of the remarks made by other speakers in the debate, 2172; but must link his remarks with the question before the Chair, 3172.

Answers must be relevant to questions, 609, 610, 826, 833, 1161, 6918.

A member may not introduce fresh material on the ground that he is replying to arguments by another member if that material relates to a fleeting reference made during debate, 231; or to interjections, 4154.

A member who has foreshadowed amendments to a bill may refer briefly at the second reading stage to anomalies in the law which his foreshadowed amendments are aimed at correcting, but must leave detailed argument until the Committee stage, 5222.

A member can make an argument relevant to a question of urgency by supporting it with facts, 5527. He may not use a question of urgency to debate an answer to a question given on the previous day, 5528.

In speaking to a question a member may mention matters that are marginally relevant, but must not dwell on them, 6377; for if members were allowed to do otherwise, it would be impossible to keep debate within a reasonable compass, 6377.

Royal Commissions (see Debate).

Special Adjournment: The practice is that a member may make only passing comment on a proposed adjournment, and may not give at length the reasons for his views, 419, 1530, 5996; though it is difficult for the Chair to decide what constitutes debate on a matter, and what is a brief reference, 419.

A member wishing to argue that the House should not adjourn must give cogent reasons, 419.

A member may refer briefly to matters that he believes require airing, 420; or a matter standing in his name on the business paper, 5994, 5995; but may not use the debate to attack other members, 420; or debate or dwell upon other subjects, 5995. He may argue that the House should continue to sit in order to deal with general business, 5995, 5996.

A member may make some reference to the reasons advanced for a special adjournment, but should not take up the time available to him in discussing matters that are not directly relevant, 1530, 5996. He should link whatever remarks he makes on that aspect with his arguments against such an adjournment, 1530.

Standing Orders: The Chair would consider a request to refer to the Standing Orders Committee a proposal that a privileges committee be established to report upon and penalize members who abuse parliamentary privilege by making unjustifiable personal attacks on other members; and that the standing orders be amended to require Ministers to give answers that have some relevance to questions, 7069.

Sub Judice Rule (see also Debate and Questions Without Notice): A question, an answer, or a debate that breaches the sub judice rule is out of order, 491, 1314, 3408, 5915. A member may not refer to a document containing facts that are the subject of a court case, 1314; for substantial damage could arise if the minds of untrained jurors serving in a criminal trial were influenced by discussion of the case in Parliament, 1314; which rule applies only when a matter is before a judicial tribunal, 3408; and the Conciliation and Arbitration Commission is such a body, 3408.

The institution of an inquiry into a matter does not necessarily mean that charges will flow from it; and the House is entitled to have an explanation of matters of State administration, providing the sub judice rule is not in any way breached, 491.

A matter that is the subject of appeal is sub judice, 2195.

It is proper that the House should be informed that a court case is pending rather than be told that legal proceedings might have been instituted, so that the Chair may determine whether a matter is sub judice, 2858.

If a question is important, it should be allowed in the public interest; and where the intention is to establish whether an investigation is being carried out by the State, the Minister should be able to give an answer without breaching the sub judice rule, 2859.

Tedious Repetition: A member may not engage in tedious repetition, 5541.

Urgency: In moving that a matter should be dealt with as one of urgent necessity, a member must show why it is urgent that other business should be set aside to deal with it, 4292, 4511. He is limited to that question and must not debate the proposed substantive motion, 290, 4112; and he must be allowed to give reasons why he believes the matter is urgent, 261, 4511; but must come quickly to it, 3828. He may make some preliminary remarks provided he links them to the question of urgency, 500.

Although it is the practice of the House to proceed with the Address-in-Reply debate with the least possible interruption, it is competent for a member to raise a matter of urgency, and it is for the House to determine whether it should be discussed, 338.

The House decides whether a matter is urgent, 4112, 4511.

In speaking to an urgency motion a member should not dwell on arguments for or against the proposed substantive motion, 1265.

The rules of debate apply to urgency motions, 3835.

A member may refer only to matters embraced by the motion, 3835.

A member can make an argument relevant to the question of urgency by supporting it with facts, 5527.

A member may not use a question of urgency to debate an answer to a question given on the previous day, 5528.

A motion was framed in such a way that it was difficult to separate facts from the question of urgency, 6290.

When replying to debate on a substantive motion a member must confine his remarks to matters already raised; he must not introduce new material, 4906.

Standing Orders, Committee, m., 1381.
Temporary Chairmen of Committees, 15.

As Deputy-President:

Chair: A member may not canvass a ruling by the Chair, 2267.

Interjections, Interruptions and Disorder:
A member addressing the Chair should be heard in silence, 928, 2843. Members should not interrupt him, but should seek the call, 6262; for members would complete their contributions to a debate sooner if there were fewer interjections, 2844.

Personal Explanations: With the leave of the House, a member may make a personal explanation even though there be no question before the Chair, but such matter may not be debated, 4480, 4482, 4484.

Points of Order: Upheld, 2267, 4482, 4483, 4484, 6474, 6489. Disallowed, 4481, 6494.

Relevance: A member's remarks must be relevant to the question before the Chair, 2267, 6474; and be within the order of leave given for a bill, 6474, 6489.

Sub Judice Rule: A judgment that is the subject of appeal is sub judice, 2267.

As Chairman of Committees:

Interjections, Interruptions and Disorder:
The Hon. W. J. Holt was called to order by name, 6877.

Points of Order: Not involved, 819, 3583, 6877.

Procedure: A bill was put to the Committee of the Whole by parts, 5901, 6682; except when objection was taken to that procedure, 6652.

The Chair cannot prevent a member from moving amendments, 814.

Altered style of preparing bills, 4397.

Relevance: A member's remarks must be relevant to the question before the Chair, 6667.

When a clause or an amendment to a clause is under discussion, members shall confine their remarks to that clause or amendment, 818, 5134, 6667.

Address in Reply: Presentation, 1072.

Adjournment: When a member wishes to raise a matter on the adjournment of the House, he must come quickly to it, 2289; and another member who has additional information to offer on the same subject is entitled to give it, 2310, 2311; but must give it forthwith, 2311; and may not merely support in general terms the remarks of the member who raised the matter, 2310.

The adjournment motion provides a last opportunity before the House rises for a member to bring some grievance to the Government's notice, or to refer to a matter which arises suddenly, or to a topic of temporary interest requiring to be dealt with at once, but not to a question of permanent interest. Accordingly, it is in order to refer to any matter of administration, but not to a matter that would entail legislation, 5346,

5347. A request for the allocation of an unusually large sum of money puts it beyond the scope of what is understood by administrative action, 5348.

Adjournment (S.O. 13): The Chair puts the question, and determines it on a majority view, 2424.

Chair: The Chair is the custodian of the standing orders, and will hear submissions suggesting that members read them, 2506.

It is the function of the Chair, not of members, to call for order, 3096.

The Chair might intervene to require a member to make his remarks relevant to the question being debated even though a point of order be not taken, 5253.

Christmas Felicitations, 3807.

Condolences: Bowen, Hon. F. W., O.B.E., a former member of the Legislative Council, 2236; Murray, Hon. T. W., I.S.M., a former member of the Legislative Council, 2236; Wright, Hon. E. G., a former member of the Legislative Council, 4263.

Constitutional Museum: Establishment, 2931.

Debate (see also Procedure): In addressing himself to a question a member may refer to copious notes, 5256.

The mover of a motion may not introduce new matter in replying to the debate on that motion, 1067.

A member may not anticipate debate, 580, 726, 2651; though a member is in order if he restricts himself to a general discussion of a subject and does not refer specifically to a bill still to be debated, 726.

A member must conclude his speech within the time allowed, 2919. In conformity with standing orders, a member was informed that his time had expired, 2431, 2923.

Documents (see also Hansard): A member may not ask the attendants in the House to distribute documents to members, but may seek leave to have a document incorporated in Hansard, 2924.

A member who said that he had available documents for the benefit of the House was asked how he intended to put them before the House, 4280.

Governor: Presentation of Address on appointment. 4262, 4388.

RULINGS, OBSERVATIONS AND OPINIONS OF CHAIR

Legislative Council: Proof copies of the Minutes of the Proceedings are subject to correction, 6208.

Offensive and Objectionable Remarks, Impugnations and Aspersions: A member was required to withdraw remarks that could be construed as a reflection on the Governor, 1040.

A member's word must be accepted, 2504.

It is one of the principles of Parliament that every member is presumed to be actuated by honourable and straightforward motives, and it is undesirable to suggest that a member has resorted to improper tactics, 2505.

If a member makes a statement to which another member takes exception, he should withdraw it, 2505; and a member withdrew the expression "junket trip", 6431. Another member was asked not to pursue a question containing a statement to which exception was taken, 2505.

Exception to a remark must be taken by the member to whom it is directed, 2508.

Members must be referred to correctly in debate, 6445.

Parliament: Parking, 3513.

Parliamentary Reporting Staff (see also Hansard): Retirement of Mr. N. Weightman, LL.B., Editor of Debates, 2115.

Because of technical difficulties with the air-conditioning system, it was necessary to seat the parliamentary reporting staff at the table of the House, 2931.

Although the parliamentary reporting staff were seated close to a member addressing the House, they had difficulty recording the proceedings because of audible conversation in the House, 2954.

Parliamentary Staff, 3808.

Personal Explanations: With the leave of the House a member may make a personal explanation, 2510.

Points of order must be taken in accordance with the standing orders, 1401, 3782.

Ruling on a point of order deferred, 2289.

A member was asked whether he was taking a point of order, 5253.

Privilege (see also Hansard): It is a high infringement of privilege to assault, insult or menace a member while he is attending Parliament, or when he is coming to or going from it, or on account of his behaviour in Parliament; but an assault on a member that does not take place in those circumstances is not a breach of privilege, 16.

Only the galley proofs, the pamphlets and the bound volumes of Hansard are privileged documents, 2517.

Procedure (see also Debate): A substantive motion of which notice has not been given may be moved only if there is no objection, 16.

The leave of the House must be obtained to move a motion pursuant to Standing Order 56, 16.

A member may not ask a Minister a question other than at question time, 1921, 2123.

A question was put and as, in the view of the Chair, more members assented to it than wished for its negation, the Chair ruled accordingly, 2424.

A notice of motion may not be set down for a day later than four weeks from the day of giving such notice, 4270.

A member should address the Chair, 930.

A member is not entitled to direct a question to a private member, 928.

In view of the unavoidable absence from the House of both Ministers, the President left the chair, 5793.

Questions Without Notice: Upon objection being taken that a question imputed improper motives to a Minister and reflected personally on him, the member who asked it was invited to hand a copy to the Chair, and after reading it the Chair disallowed the question, 2502. A member was given the opportunity to re-phrase a similar question, 2503, 2504; and a Minister was invited to consider re-phrasing his answer, 2508.

A member was asked not to pursue a question containing a statement to which exception was taken on personal grounds, 2505.

A member may not, by asking a question, anticipate debate on a bill, 580.

Standing Order 85, which deals with tedious repetition, relates to debate, and not to questions asked without notice, 2506.

A Minister is entitled to answer a question in the manner he sees fit, and without interruption, 463.

Answers must be relevant to questions, 5620, 5796.

Quorum: Twelve members constitute a quorum, 6484.

Relevance: Remarks must be relevant to the question before the Chair, 774, 779, 1399, 2145, 4977, 5137, 5252, 5253, 6483, 6847, 6848; but a member cannot be asked to confine his remarks when another member has engaged in wide-ranging debate, so setting a precedent, 5358, 5137.

Answers must be relevant to questions, 5620, 5796.

In replying to a debate a Minister was given the same latitude as that granted to an Opposition member but was requested to limit the detail with which he repied to Opposition arguments so adduced, and thereafter to confine himself to the essence of the legislation being considered, 5137.

The Chair might intervene to require a member to make his remarks relevant to the question being debated even though a point of order be not taken, 5253.
