K. O’CONNELL, ESQ.:
Appointment, 43.

E. N. QUINN, ESQ.:
Appointment, 43.

Assembly, Legislative: Rulings, Observations and Opinions of Chair (continued):

E. D. RAMSAY, ESQ.:
Appointment, 43.

R. C. A. WOTTON, ESQ.:
Appointment, 43.

DEPUTY-SPEAKER, MR (T. J. CAHILL, ESQ.):
Chair: It is disorderly to interject when the Chair is speaking and a member who persists in offending will be dealt with, 350.

Interjections, Interruptions and Disorder:
The following members were called to order by name: Mr J. H. Brown, 330; Mr Freudenstein, 350; Mr Singleton, 533.

Points of Order: Upheld, 330; disallowed, 534.

Procedure: A member had exhausted his time, 257, 355.

Relevance: Remarks must be relevant to the question before the Chair, but a member is in order in making brief introductory remarks before embarking on his main contribution to a debate, 534.

Sub Judice Rule: A member may not infringe the sub judice rule, 330, 349.

SPEAKER, MR (THE HON. LAWRENCE BORTHWICK KELLY):
Address in Reply: During the currency of debate on the motion for the adoption of the Address in Reply a member may raise a matter on the adjournment of the House only if it is of strictly local character, has narrow implications, and is unlikely to be raised by another member when speaking in the Address-in-Reply debate; and if it be raised by a member who has already spoken in that debate, it must have arisen subsequent to his contribution, 266.

Presentation, 445, 509.

Adjournment (see also Address in Reply): In speaking to the motion for the adjournment of the House a member may raise a specific matter of importance to his electorate, 735.

Adjournment (S.O. 49): A member may move during the currency of the Address-in-Reply debate for the adjournment of the House under Standing Order 49, 305.

Chair: The Chair cannot enter into debate, 130.

A member may not reflect upon the Chair, 130; or direct the Chair on the course to be followed, 615.
Assembly, Legislative: Rulings, Observations and Opinions of Chair (continued):

Speaker, Mr. (The Hon. Lawrence Borthwick Kelly):

Condolences: Dalton, T. W., a former member of the Legislative Assembly, 184; Tully, L. J., a former member of the Legislative Assembly, 43.

Debate: A member may not reflect on a decision of the House, 721.

Debate on the Supply Bill must be relevant to the question before the Chair, 524, 527; but it may be of a general nature, 524; though a member may not dwell at length on the contents of documents to assist him in his arguments, 527.

It is in order for a member to address himself to a Minister's second reading speech, or to matters covered by the order of leave given for the introduction of an amending bill, but he may not debate matters dealt with when the original legislation was considered, 616, 617, 620, 725; or embark on wide-ranging debate, 616, 722, 724; or debate matters not relevant to the question before the Chair, 725; but he may make passing reference to other matters, provided he can link them with the bill, 617, 724. A member may say that an alternative government would repeal the legislation, 617.

Dissent: A member who wishes to dissent from a ruling by the Chair should be guided by Standing Order 161, 307.

Divisions: The standing orders apply during divisions, 714.

A member who wishes to raise a point of privilege after a division has been called for must wait until the doors are closed before doing so, 714.

Documents: A member may refer to statements made by other members, 300.

Hansard: A member who wishes to have a document incorporated in Hansard must first show it to Mr Speaker in his chambers and obtain approval for seeking the leave of the House to follow that course, 313.

Interjections, Interruptions and Disorder: A member should be heard in silence, 114, 246, 311; and members were directed to remain silent to enable a member to conclude a question, 114; or to cease interjecting, 535, 620.

A member should not interject but should seek the call if he wishes to contribute to a debate, 265, 298, 305, 776, 777, and a member who has the call should not enter into debate with interjectors, 620.

Speaker, Mr. (The Hon. Lawrence Borthwick Kelly):

An exhortation to order is directed to all members, and a member who offends subsequently may be dealt with without further warning, 605.

Members were warned that if they persisted in disorderly conduct, the Chair would direct that they be removed one by one by the Serjeant-at-Arms, 714.

The following members were called to order by name: Mr Arblaster, 55, 296; Mr Baraclough, 305; Mr Boyd, 200, 535, 765, 776; Mr Caneron, 297, 500, 766, 777; Mr J. A. Clough, 305; Mr Egan, 140; Mr Greiner, 447, 449, 777; Mr Haigh, 518; Mr Healey, 194; Mr Jackson, 246, 538; Mr King, 156; Mr Moore, 505, 605; Mr Murray, 156, 713; Mr Pickard, 140, 539; Mr Punch, 55, 296, 297, 304; Mr Schipp, 192; Mr Singleton, 193, 518; Mr Smith, 504; Mr Sullivan, 298, 406; Mr Whelan, 538.

The following members were warned: Mr J. A. Clough, 716; Mr Greiner, 449; Mr Moore, 605.

Members: Leave of Absence: Mr Bedford, 43.

Parliamentary Staff: Retirement of Mr W. G. Luton, Serjeant-at-Arms, 42.

Appointment of Mr P. J. McHugh, Serjeant-at-Arms, 43.

Points of Order: A member, when taking a point of order, may not trifle with the House and delay its business, 611.

A member who wishes to take a point of order must do so when the incident or remarks to which he draws attention occurs or are made, 713.

It is competent for a member speaking to a point of order to refer to matters raised by the member who took it, 765.

A member was required to complete his point of order, 713.

Points of order not involved: 68, 114, 201, 293, 296, 784.

Assembly, Legislative: Rulings, Observations and Opinions of Chair (continued):

Speaker, Mr (The Hon. Lawrence Borthwick Kelly):

Procedure (see also Procedure, Privilege and Quorums): It is not competent for a member to move that a question asked without notice be ruled out of order, 54.

A member who invites attention to the state of the House is deemed to be present during the counting of the House. He may not leave the Chamber until a quorum is formed, 68.

It is competent for a member to take what is likely to be the most effective action to achieve a result, provided it is within the standing orders; and this includes moving urgency even though the subject-matter of the motion is the same as a contemporary amendment to the motion for the adoption of the Address in Reply, 295.

It is not competent for the Opposition to proceed with debate at the conclusion of a Minister's second reading speech, 713, 714; unless the Minister has declared the bill to be an urgent bill, in which case the debate may proceed forthwith, 713. In all other cases the procedure, determined by a resolution of the House, is for the debate to be adjourned to a future day, which shall be at least two sitting days ahead, 713. The Leader of the Opposition was called upon, pursuant to that procedural resolution, to move the adjournment of a debate, and when he declined to do so, the Leader of the House so moved, 714. Such procedural resolutions have effect, unless otherwise ordered, for the term of the Parliament in which they are moved, 713.

The House is master of its own destiny, 713.

A member who wishes to take a point of order must do so at the time of the incident to which his point is directed, 713.

Proof copies of the Votes and Proceedings are subject to correction, 611.

Privilege (see also Divisions, Procedure and Quorums): A member should not speak at length in raising a matter of privilege, 716.

A member raising a matter of privilege must foreshadow a substantive motion, and is allowed ten minutes in which to establish a prima facie case showing how his functioning as a member of Parliament is affected by the action of which he complains, and must conclude his remarks by moving the foreshadowed motion. A member may not trifle with the House by addressing himself generally to parliamentary procedure and how it affects the rights of members, 767.

A member who wishes to raise a matter of privilege in division must wait until the doors are closed before doing so, 714.

Traditionally, the Budget Papers are not made available until after the Treasurer has delivered his second-reading speech, and privilege is not breached by not releasing them at an earlier stage, 716.

A matter of privilege was not involved, 767.

Quorums (see also Procedure and Privilege): A member who invites attention to the state of the House is deemed to be present during the counting of the House. He may not leave the Chamber until a quorum is formed, 68.

A member is not required to comment on his call for a quorum, and there is no point in his doing so, 777.

As a quorum had been called for and provided a short while previously, the Chair declined to call again for a quorum, confident that the Government would be able to provide one, 777.

Questions Without Notice: Questions must be brief, 109, 112; should seek information, not give it, 112; and may not ask for comment, 607; though in asking a question a member may give sufficient facts to make clear the nature of his inquiry, 412.

The Chair will not be bound hard and fast by previous rulings on the orderliness of questions, 109.

A member who was interrupted in asking a question was told that he should not repeat it from the beginning, 112.

The Chair has no control over material that a Minister brings into the Chamber for use in answering a question, but the material the Minister uses must be relevant to the question, 113.

A Minister does not give an opinion when answering a question by quoting from a departmental report, 499.

Questions were allowed, 109, 112; and a question was disallowed, 607.

Speaker, Mr. (The Hon. Lawrence Borthwick Kelly):

It is not competent for a member to move that a question be ruled out of order, 54.

Relevance: Remarks must be relevant to the question before the Chair, 294, 524, 527, 616, 617, 622, 722, 724, 725, 766.

Sub Judice Rule: A member who seeks the application of the sub judice rule must show that the matter raised could prejudice the result of a court case, 72.

If substantial damage and prejudice would arise as a result of matters being discussed in Parliament, or, by the debate, suggestions would be carried to the minds of untrained jurors serving in a criminal trial concerning aspects of the matter before them that it was entirely improper, on evidentiary standards, for them to be considering at all, such debate will not be permitted, 307.

Urgency: A member may make preliminary remarks in raising a question of urgency provided he links them to that question, 293.

A member who moves that a matter be debated as one of urgency must show why it is urgent that the business of the House should be set aside to deal with it, 295.

It is competent for a member to move urgency as the most effective means of bringing about the result sought by a contemporary amendment to a motion for the adoption of the Address in Reply, 295.

The remarks by the Leader of the Opposition on an urgency motion moved by a Government supporter are not referred to in the standing orders as constituting a reply, but usually they follow the form of a reply. They need not necessarily be directed to the arguments put forward by the mover, but they must be relevant to the matter under discussion, 766.
