Mr R. J. CLOUGH:

AS TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEES:

Casting Vote: 4911, 4913
Assembly, Legislative: Rulings, Observations and Opinions of the Chair (continued):

TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN (MR R. J. CLOUGH): (continued):

Chair:
The Chair withdrew a comment, which was made jokingly to a member, that the member "has been a member of the House long enough to know that he will not become Leader of the Liberal Party if he is outside the Chamber", 845.

Debate:
Members should address their remarks through the Chair, 3618.

In Committee on the appropriation bills the purpose of considering the various allocations is to draw attention to the impact of those allocations on electorates. Members are within their rights to say that funding that should have been provided to their electorates was not provided, 3777.

Interjections, Interruptions and Disorder:
A member was reminded of the notification of the allocation of time for discussion for consideration of the appropriation bills and warned that if the member interjected again the Chair would have the greatest pleasure requesting the Speaker to direct the Serjeant-at-Arms to remove the member, 3774.

Points of Order:
Not Involved: 3777.

Relevance:
Members should confine their remarks to the leave of the matter under consideration, 845, 3776.

AS ACTING-SPEAKER:

Casting Vote: 4879

Consideration of Urgent Motions:
Members should confine their remarks to establishing the priority of their motions, 3418.

Debate:
Traditionally a degree of latitude is extended to members when contributing to debate on the appropriation bills, 3133.

Interjections, Interruptions and Disorder:
A Minister was directed to cease interjecting, 1726.

Members should direct their remarks through the Chair and ignore interjections, 4241.

Members will cease interjecting and allow members with the call to complete their contributions, 4880.

Offensive and Objectionable Remarks, Imputations and Aspersions:
Traditionally debate is of a robust nature. However, a member had spoilt his rather theatrical, and otherwise enjoyable, contribution by calling a fellow member a fool. The Chair suggested the member might moderate his choice of words in future debates, 1727.

Points of Order:
Not Involved: 1490, 1839, 3268, 3418.

Not Upheld:
Consideration of Urgent Motions, 3418.
Private Members' Statements, 1839
Relevance, 3133.

Relevance:
A member was directed to return to the subject matter of the debate, 3109, 3133.

Members should confine their remarks to the leave of the question before the Chair. Passing reference to matters outside that leave is sufficient reference, 3913.

MR B. J. GAUDRY:

AS ACTING-SPEAKER:

Chair:
Members should address their remarks through the Chair, 4499.

Debate:
It is accepted practice that in debate members may refer to copious notes, 1347, 1348.

Interjections, Interruptions and Disorder:
Members wishing to engage in conversation should do so outside the Chamber, 965.

Members with the right of reply should do so at the appropriate time, 1347, 1349.

A Minister, who had the right of reply at the appropriate time, was directed to listen in silence to the contribution of a member, 1848.

Members with the call are entitled to be heard without interruption, 3386, 3452.

A member interjecting was reminded that he had already contributed to debate, 3390.

Members wishing to engage in conversation should do so outside the Chamber, 3430, 3987.

Constant banter interrupts the train of thought of members with the call, 3987.

Members who choose not to contribute to debate

Assembly, Legislative: Rulings, Observations and Opinions of the Chair (continued):

ACTING SPEAKER (Mr B. J. GAUDRY) (continued):

should not attempt to do so by way of interjection. They should listen in silence or leave the Chamber, 4304.

Members with the right of reply have adequate time to respond to matters raised by other members. In the meantime they should remain silent. 4407.

Members who have contributed already to debate should listen in silence to the contributions of other members, 4410.

Members interjecting were reminded of their opportunity to contribute at the appropriate time, 1694, 2226, 4729.

Members should desist from speaking with people in the gallery, 4744.

Offensive and Objectionable Remarks, Imputations and Aspersions: Members will refrain from using such language as “and doesn’t that get up your bloody nostrils”, 4406.

Points of Order:
Not Involved: 1347, 1348, 3393, 3432, 4304, 4408.

Upheld: Members Referred to by Correct Titles, 3964, 4408, 4502.
Relevance, 2453, 4406.

Relevance:
A member who was making passing reference to a topic was asked to return to the leave of the question before the Chair, 1348.

AS TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEES:

Casting Vote: 4877.

Interjections, Interruptions and Disorder:
Members wishing to engage in conversation should do so outside the Chamber, 3782.

The Chair does not appreciate members walking around the Chamber and conducting themselves in an unparliamentary fashion, 3783.

Points of Order:
Not Involved: 3783.

Upheld: Audible Conversation, 3705.
Relevance, 4294.

the Chair that what she was referring to was a response to matters raised in earlier debate, 1598.

A member was directed to state his point of order, 1689, 2437.

Members will not seek to intervene in the debate under the guise of taking points of order, 1689.

The Chair was at a disadvantage in that he was not in the chair for the early part of the debate and, therefore, could not rule that a member had referred to matters outside the leave of the bill, 1856.

Relevance:
Although standing orders provide that the contributions of members must be relevant to the subject of the question before the Chair, generally speaking all members, including Ministers, are extended a degree of latitude with regard to references that do not fall within the leave of the question, 1687.

Members were reminded of the requirement that contributions be relevant, but that latitude is often extended to all members when canvassing general issues that may not fall within the ambit of the question before the Chair, 1688.

Members should refrain from referring in detail to matters not relevant to the question before the Chair, 1856.

Members may make passing reference only to matters outside the leave of the question before the Chair, 1861.

Traditionally the Chair has extended a degree of leniency to members in relation to their opening remarks to contributions. A member was permitted to continue but was requested to address the subject matter of the question before the Chair as soon as possible, 2437.

Assembly, Legislative: Rulings, Observations and Opinions of the Chair (continued):

makes his or her maiden speech, he or she should make a concerted effort to remain silent during debate. New members should observe the convention, 389.

Members interjecting have an opportunity to contribute to debate at a later stage, 496, 1491.

A member was being distracted by vehement interjections. However, the member with the call should return to the question before the Chair, 783.

Members were directed to cease interjecting, 1218.

It is reasonable that Ministers respond to interjections, 1220.

Contributions of members will be heard in silence, 1346.

Members will listen in silence to Ministers' responses to questions without notice, 1593.

If members with the call ignored interjections, they would put to better use their time to speak in the debate, 3136.

If interjections cease, Ministers may be able to provide the information that is sought, 4225.

Offensive and Objectionable Remarks, Imputations and Aspersions:

A member was advised to moderate his language in the Chamber, 1735.

The Chair, not having heard the comment about which a request was made for an apology and withdrawal, was not able to direct a member to withdraw and apologise, 3596, 3597.

Identification of Documents, 582.

DEPUTY-SPEAKER (Mr J. C. PRICE) (continued):

Given that a Minister had been speaking for only a short time the Chair was not able to determine whether the Minister had been reading or merely referring to copious notes, 1701.

As a member had concluded her speech there was nothing before the Chair on which a point of order could be taken, 4496.

Private Members' Statements:

Members are restricted to raising one subject matter in private members' statements, 54.

Relevance:

A member was directed to confine his remarks to the scope of the question before the Chair, 384.

A member was being distracted by vehement interjections. However, the member with the call should return to the question before the Chair, 783.

Though debate is wide ranging, it might assist the understanding of members of the public in the gallery if a member referred occasionally to the bill, 837.

A member was directed to return quickly to the substance of the motion, 500, 953, 1220, 1702, 4496.

A Minister was making only a passing reference to a matter outside the leave of the question before the Chair, 1701.

Members wishing to speak to specific items in a bill will ensure that their comments are directed to the correct item, 4440.

Tabling of Documents:

There is no requirement on a Minister to table documents. 1707.

AS CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEES:

Amendments:

An amendment was ruled out of order on the ground of relevance, 785; as being outside the leave of the bill under consideration, 822, 3626.

Casting Vote: 553, 1950, 3956.

Chair:

If a member wishes to canvass the rulings of the Chair, he will be directed to resume his seat and the call will be given to another member, 1944.

Members should address their remarks through the Chair, 3711.

CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEES (MR J. C. PRICE) (continued):

Debate:
A Minister was directed to comply with the rules of the Chamber, 1193.

The same latitude was extended to a Minister to read an item of correspondence as was extended to a member earlier in the debate, 1945.

In reference to budget items members should confine their remarks to the broad issues of clauses rather than one specific item. If members wish to refer to one specific matter, they may do so by way of another procedure, 3710.

That a question on a specific matter had been placed on notice is not a matter for consideration in Committee on the estimates, 3786.

Members should relate questions to specific line items in the budget, 3786.

Documents:
Passing reference only is permitted to press releases and newspaper articles. Members will not seek to debate such issues. 3709.

Interjections, Interruptions and Disorder:
A member was advised that he would have an opportunity to participate in debate at the appropriate time, 1193.

The rules that apply to decorum in the House apply equally in Committee. If members continue to interject, the Chair would have no alternative but to take the appropriate action, 1193.

A member was directed to continue with his contribution, 1196.

The member with the call is the only member permitted to speak, 1196.

The Chair accepted an apology from a member who, the Chair suggested, should temper his statements and continue with his contribution, 1200.

A member was warned that any repeat of his outburst when he left the Chamber on an earlier occasion would not be tolerated by the Chair. The Chair suggested that the member temper his language whilst he is in the Chamber, 1201.

A member is entitled to contribute to debate without being interrupted by interjections, 1945.

Members should reduce the level of conversation to allow the member with the call to be heard in silence, 3784.
Assembly, Legislative: Rulings, Observations and Opinions of the Chair (continued):

SPEAKER, Mr (THE HON. J. H. MURRAY) (continued):

Casting Vote: 596, 600, 611, 678, 1114, 1819, 2078, 2107, 2339, 2362, 2443, 3097, 3419, 3720, 3744, 3910, 3932, 3940, 4713, 4896.

Chair:
Members who question rulings of the Chair may find themselves leaving the Chamber earlier than expected, 34.

A member seeking clarification of a ruling was invited to discuss the matter with Mr Speaker in his chambers, 34, 343.

It is disrespectful of members to speak while the Chair is on his feet. The leaders of parties should set an example for other members to follow, 37.

Members disrespectful of the wishes of the Chair will leave the Chamber forthwith, 37.

The Chair invited a member to discuss in chambers the involvement of the House in a proposal to commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the end of World War II, 225.

A member was advised against reflecting on a decision of the Chair, 261.

It is the province of the Chair and the Chair alone to control the proceedings of the House, 281.

The Chair is responsible for the conduct of debate, 350; for ensuring adherence to the rules of debate, 680; for maintaining decorum, 2103; and for the orderly management of the House, 4245.

A member was reminded of the consequences of flouting a ruling of the Chair, 562.

A Minister is cognisant of protocol with regard to addressing remarks through the Chair, 565.

The Chair was not in a position to determine the veracity of members' statements. The Chair expressed the hope that the statements of members have some truth associated with them, 680.

Members should not make reflections on the Chair, 714.

The Chair needs no assistance to make determinations of matters raised by way of points of order, 1581.

Members certainly should not usurp the role of the Chair by seeking to instruct other members as to their behaviour. Members who wish to take points of order will do so using the appropriate forms and procedures of the House or they will not be recognised, 1581.

If members wish to canvass the rulings of the Chair, they should do so by reference to the appropriate forms of the House, 1716.

The Chair is not privy to the will of the Government or the Opposition. The Chair conducts the business of the House in accordance with the standing orders, 2068.

The Chair is not able to pre-empt a statement from a member, 2099.

Members were warned against seeking to assume the role of the Chair. The Chair will decide which members will remain standing and which members should be seated. 2103.

A member was advised not to test the patience of the Chair, 2104.

Rulings of the Chair will not be canvassed, 1975, 2099, 2106.

A member was directed to address the Chair and not gesticulate at other members, 2458.

It is not the responsibility of the Chair to determine the authenticity of comments of members or whether someone else has written the speeches that they deliver, 3100.

Members should not deliberately provoke the Chair, 3242.

When the Chair is speaking members should remain silent and seated, 3145.

It was not within the knowledge of the Chair what policies had been implemented by a Minister previously or at present, 3416, 3417.

Consideration of Urgent Motions:
Members should confine their remarks to stating the reason that their motions should receive priority, or precedence, over the motions of other members; 168, 1587, 1721, 1722, 1818, 3248, 3741, 3939; and not debate the substantive motion, 992, 1587, 2106, 3096.

A notice for urgent consideration was in need of a signature, 269.

In stating the reasons their motions should receive priority members must address their motions only, 1210.
A member was advised that in stating the reason his motion should receive priority there was no need to produce the notes he may wish to use when speaking to his motion. At this juncture he is required to convince the House of the urgency of his motion, 1210.

A member was asked to explain why a matter was urgent, 1588.

A member was permitted to continue his five-minute statement to enable the Chair to determine whether he was seeking to debate the substantive motion rather than to establish why his motion should be given precedence, 1817.

Members should abide by the standing orders and explain why their motions should be dealt with urgently, 3580, 3743.

Members should confine their remarks to the leave available to them, and that is to establish priority, 3741.

A member, who was referring to matters that were the subject of another motion about which notice was given for urgent consideration, was directed to confine his remarks to the motion before the House, 4490.

Debate:

Members should refer to other members by their correct titles, 28, 29, 39, 40, 3090.

Ministers will abide by the standing orders when replying to questions and refer to members by their proper titles rather than by Christian names and surnames, 39.

Members should address remarks through the Chair, 133, 167, 224, 229, 266, 279, 281, 481, 489, 558, 586, 588, 589, 592, 680, 1226, 1228, 1329, 1331, 1581, 1718, 2099, 2101, 2186, 2345, 2370, 2458, 2461, 2463, 3242, 3574, 3746, 3954, 4253, 4709.

Because of the degree of confusion since the recent elections with regard to chairpersons of parliamentary committees, in take-note debate on reports from such committees the Speaker ruled that should a recently elected chairperson wish to speak to a report presented by his or her committee, he or she may do so for a period of 10 minutes, in accordance with the relevant standing order. Similarly, with regard to reports of committees the chairpersons of which have not yet been elected, should a member who held the position of chairperson of the committee in the previous Parliament wish to speak, he or she will be permitted to speak for a period of 10 minutes, 251.

A member was reminded of the right of reply, 274, 564, 595, 680, 2092.

Members must be prepared to accept a level of criticism without becoming overly sensitive, 356.

Members who do not have the opportunity to contribute to debate on a motion may wish to do so at a later stage by way of a private member’s statement, 356.

Members were asked to extend to members making their first or maiden speeches the usual courtesy of listening to the speeches in silence, 561, 562, 1835, 1992, 2214, 3275.

It is a longstanding convention of the House that a member making his or her first speech is heard in silence. The Chair heard a point of order because the matter being referred to by the member making his first speech impinged upon a motion, notice of which had been given by another member. The Chair ruled that unless a similar situation arose, it did not intend to entertain other points of order for the remainder of the member’s first speech, 562.

Traditionally members have extended the courtesy of not interrupting the maiden speech of a member regardless of whether matters of a controversial nature are raised in that speech. If any member takes exception to a matter raised by the member making the maiden speech, that member should seek the call and contribute to debate on the motion, 562.

A member was not permitted to take part in debate from a position outside the Chamber, 562.

A member’s time for speaking had expired, 563.

A member was directed to resume his seat and come to the table when he receives the call, 679.

Members have an opportunity to explain differences in interpretation when the member with the call concludes, 1331.

Members who direct statements to other members must expect a response, 1556.

Some allowance must be made for human behaviour. All members are afforded a degree of leniency in this regard provided that for the majority of their contributions they address their remarks through the Chair, 1582.
When debate is robust members who interject can expect responses of a similar nature from the member with the call, 1582.

It is quite in order for a member when making a speech to illustrate a point by referring to a document. The Chair will not tolerate, however, a number of members at the one time attempting to exhibit a placard. Such a practice is unacceptable, 1811.

As there was little likelihood that a motion on the business paper would be debated in the immediate future a Minister was at liberty to make reference to a particular matter, 1969.

If members wish to respond to matters raised by Ministers in question time, they should do so by way of the appropriate procedures of the House, 3241.

A member who was some distance from the Chair was asked to speak in a louder tone, 3415.

Dissent:
As notice of a motion of dissent from a ruling of the Speaker was moved in accordance with the standing orders within three sitting days after the ruling in question, the motion was ruled to be in order, 593.

Divisions:
During divisions members should remain seated and exercise decorum, 161, 1113.

Pursuant to standing orders, the time taken up by a division is deducted from a member’s time to speak, 596.

There being limited or no intervening debate following a previous division, with the leave of the House, and after consultation with the whips, the Chair ordered the doors to be locked with the vote taken for two subsequent motions without the bells being rung, 611, 788.

The Chair was most unimpressed with the behaviour of members when the result of a previous division was announced. Members were warned that a repeat of such behaviour would result in some members leaving the Chamber, which may influence the result of subsequent divisions, 1114.

Pursuant to Standing Order 197 a member was not permitted to call a division. The Chair suggested that the member most interested in the debate seek the resumption of the debate as an order of the day for a future day—a question that needed to be put before 9.30 a.m. otherwise the matter would fall off the business paper, 2068.

Specific members were ruled to have no direct pecuniary interest in the outcome of proceedings and, therefore, could participate in the vote, 4421.

Documents:
If a member wishes to quote from a document, that member should do so only briefly and should identify the document quoted from, 2354.

Only passing reference can be made to newspaper articles, 1357; and they cannot be used to establish fact, 2358.

A Minister who was illustrating a point by making passing reference to a newspaper article was permitted to resume his speech, 3571.

A member was asked to provide, at the request of another member, the date of the compilation of a document being referred to, 4525.

Extensions of Time:
Standing orders do not provide for a member’s time to be extended in debate on General Business notices of motion, not being for bills, 563.

Interjections, Interruptions and Disorder:

Chair
A member’s behaviour was most disrespectful, 156.

Conversation
The Chair had difficulty hearing the reply of a Minister because members were conversing among themselves. Members should refrain from engaging in conversation so that Ministers can have definitive answers recorded by Hansard and heard by people in the public gallery, 37.

Members who wish to converse should do so outside the Chamber, 157, 1344

Members were not at liberty to wander about the Chamber engaging in conversation. That is the prerogative of the whips. Members who engage in such behaviour will be placed on three calls to order and removed from the Chamber, 34.

Although all members should abide by the rulings of the Chair, with regard to conversation leniency is extended to the Leader of the Opposition and the Premier, who are at liberty to talk to their backbench members. They should, however, conclude such conversations as quickly as possible, 37.

Members other than whips and House leaders were moving around the Chamber conversing with other members. Members who deliberately engage in this practice will be called to order. If members wish to converse with other members, they should do so outside the Chamber, 157.

Members should resist the temptation to converse across the Chamber, 489, 2456, 2462.

If members wish to have explained to them a matter relating to the business of the House, they should discuss the matter with their party whips, 2459.

It is difficult for the Chair to determine the will of members when there is so much audible conversation in the Chamber, 845.

The Chair had difficulty hearing the response of a Minister because of the level of conversation in the Chamber. Members should listen in silence to the Minister's answer, 982.

Interjection
A member was asked to repeat a point of order, which the Chair was not able to hear because of the level of interjection, 30.

Members who continued to interject by shouting out the word "boring" would be removed from the Chamber, 39.

Members should listen in silence to the contributions of other members, 48, 132, 266, 354, 566, 590, 595, 680.

Members may address the Chair when given the call, otherwise they should remain silent and seated, 131.

Members should refrain from commenting, and they should listen in silence to the contributions of other members, 132, 354, 680.

Members were reminded that they would be required to vote on a motion, and the Chair hoped that their decision was an informed one, 156.

A member is entitled to interrupt the member with the call if that member is being alluded to. However, if the member has not been referred to, the member should remain silent, 173.

Members were asked to refrain from interjecting, 33, 229, 266, 566, 671, 985, 1078, 1103, 1105, 1328, 1331, 1683, 2101.

A member was asked not to respond to interjections, 238, 2100, 2102; and to resist the temptation to respond to interjections, 2186.

If members wish to hear the answer of a Minister, they should refrain from interjecting, 266.

Members who have contributed already to debate should remain silent for the remainder of the debate, 239, 281, 357, 595, 1682.

Members interjecting were reminded that they will have an opportunity to contribute to debate at a later stage, 353, 354, 564, 595, 680, 683, 1717, 1819, 2107; and if they choose not to contribute, they should listen in silence, 683.

The Chair sought the cooperation of members to allow debate to proceed without further interruption. Other members will have the opportunity to contribute to debate if they desire to do so. Members should listen to debate in silence, 353.

Members were advised that although they were some distance from the Chair, their interjections were audible, 478.

The Chair will not tolerate puerile interjections, 483.

Often a degree of latitude is extended by the Chair to interjections of a reasonable or humorous nature. The Chair will not tolerate, however, disrespectful behaviour, 589.

Members who continue to interrupt will be removed from the Chamber, 681, 1721, 3095, 3238.

On occasions interjections add flavour to debate. However, often they serve no purpose other than to prevent members from hearing a Minister's response, 807.

A member was directed to remain seated and silent, 1106.

The Chair would prefer that the Minister returned to matters relevant to the question before the Chair and disregard interjections, 1106.

All members were at risk of being placed on three calls to order. The patience of the Chair was waning, 1207.

Members with the call will be heard in silence, 1229.

A member, who had been up all night preparing his contribution, would not want any of his time taken up by having to respond to interjections, 1328.
A member was reminded that he was on three calls to order and of the request of the Chair that members be silent while strangers, who are not able to reply to interjections, are addressing the House, 1473.

Opposition members should ignore rhetorical questions put to them, which they suggested created some disturbance in the House, 1582.

There was far too much interjection, 2097, 2359, 3941; and those members who have previously been called to order are deemed to be on three calls to order, 2462, 2464.

Members who continue to interject will be removed from the Chamber, 2182.

If members remained quiet, the House would not have difficulty hearing members notices of motions, 2337.

The level of interjection was such that the Chair was having difficulty hearing a member, 2458.

A member was asked to remain silent and warned that if he continued to disregard directions of the Chair, the Chair would not hesitate to name him, 3086.

A member was directed to resume his seat and cease interjecting, 3231, 3238.

Members will reduce the level of interjection. The Chair must be able to hear debate to enable a decision to be made on matters raised, 3740.

Members wishing to contribute to debate should advise the appropriate whip, who will arrange to have their names added to the list of members who will speak in the debate. If it is not their wish to so contribute, they should remain silent, 3746.

Hansard is having difficulty hearing what is being said, 3750.

A Minister interjecting was reminded of his right of reply at the appropriate time, 3944.

Members wishing to contribute to debate should seek the call at the appropriate time. Otherwise they should listen in silence to the contributions of other members, 4764.

Order and Decorum
Members were advised that it was not wise for members to test the patience of the Chair. Any member called to order on three occasions will be removed from the House, 28.

Members were reminded of their precarious position having regard to the number of times they had been called to order, 31.

Members were not at liberty to wander about the Chamber engaging in conversation. That is the prerogative of the whips. Members who engage in such behaviour will be placed on three calls to order and removed from the Chamber, 34.

A member whose behaviour was disrespectful was in danger of being removed from the Chamber.

There is room for humour in the House, but the behaviour of some members was disrespectful, 35.

A member, who had been called to order on at least three occasions, was escorted from the Chamber by the Serjeant-at-Arms. As this was the first occasion this session that the Chair had been required to remove a member, the member was allowed to remain in a designated area within the precincts and permitted to return to the Chamber after question time, 38.

The Chair reminded the Leader of the Opposition of the obligation to display leadership to other members, 157.

The Chair suggested that a member should have brought to the attention of the Clerks the presence in the gallery of mobile telephones, 158.

Members were warned that the next member to attract the attention of the Chair would be removed from the House, 158.

During divisions members should remain seated and exercise decorum, 161.

The behaviour of a former Minister, who understood full well the implications of such behaviour, was disorderly, 260.

If Ministers and members were permitted to exhibit items such as trophies to illustrate a point, the Chair would have difficulty maintaining decorum in the House. Members should refrain from such a practice, 343.

The Speaker directed an attendant to remove an item [trophy] that was on display in the House, 345.

The behaviour of members was unacceptable. The Speaker was sure that the schoolchildren in the public galleries were not impressed by the performances of their elected representatives. Members were reminded of the consequences of repeated interjection and disorderly behaviour. If members do not wish to cooperate to maintain decorum, they will leave the Chamber of their own accord or at the direction of the Chair, 478.

Though a Minister was permitted to read from a newspaper article, the Chair directed that it not be further displayed, that it be placed out of sight of, and not passed among, members of the backbench, 480.

Often a degree of latitude is extended by the Chair to interjections of a reasonable or humorous nature. The Chair will not tolerate, however, disrespectful behaviour, 589.

It is important that members of the public have every opportunity to see their representatives in action in the Parliament. However, in doing so they must not interrupt the proceedings. No doubt the attendants in future will ensure that nothing (pieces of paper) enters the Chamber from the public galleries, 672.

A member was directed to remove a video cassette from the table, 681.

The behaviour of a member was grossly disorderly. Although members are entitled to come to the table of the House to obtain a glass of water, in so doing they are not entitled to interrupt Ministers’ responses to questions. The Chair will have no hesitation in removing from the Chamber any member who behaves in a like manner in the future, 807.

Barely two minutes after calling a member to order for displaying a newspaper article in the Chamber, the Chair observed another member seeking to display another article. Should any member again attract the attention of the Chair for engaging in such unacceptable behaviour, that member will be removed from the Chamber, 979.

The behaviour of a member is not acceptable and will not be tolerated. If the member continues to attract the adverse attention of the Chair, the member will be removed from the Chamber, 981.

The parliamentary attendants were directed to maintain order in the public gallery. A visitor who would not resume her seat was assisted from the gallery by the attendants, 1064.

As there was a problem with the microphones in the Chamber members were advised to listen to debate in silence, 1065.

The Chair was most unimpressed with the behaviour of members when the result of a division was announced. Members were warned that a repeat of such behaviour would result in some members leaving the Chamber, which may influence the result of a subsequent division, 1114.

The behaviour of a member was grossly disrespectful. Should members offend again in that regard, they will be removed from the House, 1205.

A member was placed on three calls to order for grossly disrespectful behaviour, 1361.

The volatile nature of the subject matter of debate does not entitle members to breach the rules of decorum of the House. Recently it was necessary for the Chair to have a member removed from the Chamber for disorderly conduct. In the interests of preserving the image of the Parliament the Chair would be loath to require another member to leave. Should it be necessary for the Chair to call for order again, all members will be deemed to be on three calls to order, 1581.

A member was directed to resume his seat and warned that if there was a repeat of such an outburst, he would be removed from the Chamber. All members were placed on three calls to order, 1586.

Members were warned against the repeat of such unacceptable behaviour as members seeking to display material, 1710.

In accordance with an earlier ruling that resulted in the removal of a member from the Chamber, a member, who was already on three calls to order, was removed from the Chamber for disorderly conduct and for disobeying a direction of the Chair that members not attempt to display material in the House, 1716.

The Chair was hopeful that members would maintain decorum and order after the early departure from the Chamber of a member. Members who had been called to order previously were deemed to be on three calls to order, 1718.

Obviously the debate was of great interest to a number of members. However, the member with the call needs no assistance from colleagues. Debate should proceed in an orderly fashion, 1725.

It is quite in order for a member when making a speech to illustrate a point by referring to a document. The Chair will not tolerate, however, a number of members at the one time attempting to exhibit a placard. Such a practice is unacceptable, 1811.
While the Chair appreciates a degree of good humour from members, it will not tolerate disruptive behaviour. Members will exercise decorum and obey the standing orders and rules of the House or they will be removed, 2181.

A member, whose behaviour was disrespectful, was warned that a repeat by him of such behaviour would result in his removal from the Chamber. Members were asked to contain their enthusiasm and allow a member, who seemed eager to do so, to address the House, 2358.

The Chair acknowledges the volatility of certain matters that at times come before the House. However, it must be apparent to all members that unruly behaviour in the Chamber does little to enhance their public image. The Chair warned members that it would be paying particularly close attention to seek out those who wilfully disregard the wishes of the Chair, in particular with regards to members raising spurious points of order, moving around the Chamber and conversing loudly with colleagues. All members have a responsibility to uphold the rules of the House and conduct themselves in an orderly and courteous manner. A repeat of unacceptable behaviour will result in the removal of offending members from the Chamber. The Chair will not tolerate the use by members of unparliamentary language or members engaging in unparliamentary conduct. Members of the community in the gallery as well as members of Parliament have a right to hear the words spoken in the Chamber. The public certainly expect decorum from their elected representatives, 3407.

The member with the call is entitled to be heard without interruption. The schoolchildren present in the gallery would be disappointed in the behaviour of members. If the behaviour of members does not improve, some members will be removed from the Chamber, 3240.

Members who were obviously deliberately trying to incite the Chair were warned that if they persisted in that behaviour they would be removed from the Chamber, 3241.

If the behaviour of members does not improve, all members will be placed on three calls to order, 3233; and all members were subsequently placed on three calls to order, 3233.

A member who had been on leave of absence from the Chamber was reminded that the standing rules and orders that applied in the House before his absence still applied, 3234.
Assembly, Legislative: Rulings, Observations and Opinions of the Chair

(point of order, other members will remain silent. If any member wishes to contribute to debate on any point, he or she should seek the call to do so. 2457.

The level of interjection and the behaviour of members is unacceptable. The Chair made it clear on numerous occasions that it would not hear further points of order. However, if members wished to be heard on the matter, they may seek the call when the Minister has concluded his remarks. If any members wish to discuss the way in which the Chair is managing the business of the House, they are invited to see the Speaker in his Chambers at a later time, 3240.

The Chair invited a Minister to comment on a statement by a member. The Minister strayed somewhat from the leave extended and this resulted in a number of members seeking to object. However, because of the disorderly behaviour of members the Chair ruled that it would not hear further points of order on the matter. The Minister was directed to confine his remarks to the statement of the member and to that statement only, 3240; and members who were given an opportunity to put their views on the matter should not seek by their comments to further incite other members. If they have matters of relevance to raise, they should raise them, 3241.

A member who took a point of order had not been listening to the debate. For a considerable part of it he had been engaged in conversation with other members, 3088.

Members should address their points of order through the Chair and disregard interjections, 3733.

Members who continue to interject while the Chair is speaking will be removed from the Chamber. It is quite obvious that during question time points of order are being taken with the intention of disrupting Ministers' answers. The Chair had warned members on numerous occasions against adopting such a tactic, 4430.

Members interjecting will be removed from the Chamber if they continue to interrupt while the Chair is listening to points of order, 4764.

Question time
The Chair sought the cooperation of members to allow question time to proceed in an orderly fashion, 28, 37.

Members should exercise some decorum while a Minister is attempting to answer a question, 29, 33.

Assembly, Legislative: Rulings, Observations and Opinions of the Chair

The Chair felt it necessary to rise on three occasions to restore order in the House. Members were advised that it was unwise to test the patience of the Chair. Members showed disrespect for the Chair by conversing with colleagues and not listening to the answer of a Minister. Members must set an example for the many young people who visit Parliament on a regular basis. The behaviour of members should improve for the remainder of question time, 29.

Members should remain silent while questions are being asked, 37, 43, 483; and a member was asked to restate a question, 37.

A member, who had been called to order on at least three occasions, was escorted from the Chamber by the Serjeant-at-Arms. As this was the first occasion this session that the Chair had been required to remove the member, the member was allowed to remain in a designated area within the precincts, and permitted to return to the Chamber after question time, 38.

The Chair directed the House to come to order to enable members to hear a Minister's reply to a question. Members were warned that those already on three calls to order would not have the leniency extended to them as was enjoyed by a member who had been removed from the Chamber for a limited time, 38.

Members were asked to remain silent for the duration of a Minister's reply to the last question for question time, which had been lengthy and difficult, 43.

During question time the Chair had extended a degree of tolerance and flexibility to all members. However, disorderly interruptions will not be tolerated and the Chair will remove members who offend irrespective of whether they have been called to order previously, 157.

Given the performance of some members after only one question, and having reminded members of a previous ruling on disorderly conduct, the Chair placed all members who had been called to order already on three calls. As a consequence, should any one of those members offend again, that member will be removed from the Chamber, 260.

A general warning was issued that the next member to interject will be in danger of being removed from the Chamber, 261.

The ruling of the Chair with regard to interjections applies equally to members on both sides of the
Assembly, Legislative: Rulings, Observations and Opinions of the Chair (continued):

SPEAKER, MR (THE HON. J. H. MURRAY) (continued):

House. For the remainder of question time all members were placed on three calls to order, 262.

A member was reminded of the consequences of a member, having been called to order for a second time, again attracting the adverse attention of the Chair, 342.

A Minister did not require the assistance of other Ministers to answer a question, 344.

The behaviour of members is deteriorating. Members who have been called to order are now deemed to be on three calls to order. Question time will conclude when answers to two further questions have been provided. The Chair expressed the hope that all members would be present to hear those answers, 346.

Though the Chair hesitates to put any member on three calls to order, it would do so if members continue to interrupt a Minister's answer, 348.

If members cease interrupting, a Minister may well confine his response to the subject matter of the question, 481.

If it becomes necessary for the Chair to once more interrupt a Minister's response to call the House to order, those members who are already on two calls to order will be deemed to be on three calls to order. The cooperation of all members was sought to permit the Minister's response to the final question in question time to be heard in silence, 485.

The member who asks a question of a Minister should listen in silence to the answer, 589, 2097, 3092, 3409, 3412, 4100; and refrain from conversation, 589, 1359.

Because of the level of noise in the Chamber the Chair asked a member to restate a question, 590.

A Minister needs no assistance from other members to provide an answer, which the Chair was sure the Minister was about to conclude, 671.

The attention of the Chair is being distracted all too frequently by interjections. Should another member attract the adverse attention of the Chair, all members who have been called to order will be deemed to be on three calls to order, 672.

All members who have been called to order are deemed to be on three calls to order, 672, 673, 808.

Members will listen in silence to Ministers' answers, 674, 1459, 2341, 2344; and to questions asked, 2343.
Ministers' responses will be heard in silence. The Chair and the member who asked the question were having difficulty hearing the answer, 1460.

The behaviour of members during the response by a Minister to the first question of questions without notice was unacceptable. Generally speaking, a degree of leniency is extended to members during question time. However, on some occasions the Chair insists on the strict adherence by members to the forms and procedures of the House. This is one of those occasions. Those members who have been called to order on one occasion already are now deemed to be on three calls to order, 1460.

Members were reminded that a number were already on three calls to order. The Chair suggested that for the remainder of question time members be on their very best behaviour, 1465.

A member was reminded that he would have an opportunity to ask a question when a Minister had completed his response, 1465.

Rather than respond to interjections a Minister was asked to answer a question, 1465.

The behaviour of a member, who had been called to order on three occasions already, was disrespectful. The Chair warned the member that if the member persisted in such behaviour, he would be removed from the Chamber, 1465.

A Minister was directed to answer the question and address his remarks through the Chair, 1465.

A member was warned that if his unacceptable behaviour persisted, he would be removed from the Chamber, 2096.

Members wishing to ask questions should seek to do so at the conclusion of responses by Ministers, 2096.

Question time has not yet commenced and already the level of interjection is unacceptable. For the remainder of today's proceedings the Chair shall be particularly severe on members who continue to attract the adverse attention of the Chair, 2180.

Members who were previously interjecting are now seeking to disrupt the response of the Minister by conversing among themselves in an audible fashion. Such behaviour is not acceptable. All members were placed on three calls to order. The Chair reiterated that members will abide by the standing orders and rules of the House, 2181.

Members will remain silent while questions are asked, 3086, 3238, 3239, 3409.

A member was having difficulty hearing a question. If members continue to be disruptive, they will be removed from the Chamber. The member who seeks the call to ask a question is entitled to have the question heard in silence, 3087.

A Minister had been responding for barely a minute and already the member who asked the question had sought to interject on two occasions. Obviously if one member is permitted to interrupt proceedings without objection from the Chair, other members will attempt to follow suit. Members will remain seated and silent whilst Ministers respond to questions. Members who were already on three calls to order were warned against further attracting the adverse attention of the Chair, 3088.

The Chair expressed the hope that it would not be required to rise to call for order as it was required to do during question time the previous day, 3232.
2 May 1995 to 15 December 1995

SPEAKER, MR (THE HON. J. H. MURRAY)

The behaviour of members was grossly disorderly. A Minister was asked to return to the subject matter of the question. Members were reminded of an earlier ruling that members have a responsibility to uphold the rules of the House and conduct themselves in an orderly and courteous manner, particularly with regard to their raising spurious points of order, moving about the Chamber, and engaging in audible conversation. For the remainder of question time the Chair would take strict action against those members who attracted adverse attention.

There is far too much interjection. The schoolchildren visiting the Parliament would be disappointed with the behaviour of members in the Chamber. Members should refrain from interjecting.

Disorderly responses by way of interjection by members to questions without notice are unacceptable. A member was directed to cease interjecting and diverting a Minister's attention from the Chair.

If members who ask question wish to hear answers to their questions, they should listen in silence. Ministers should ignore interjections and address their remarks through the Chair.

Members who continue to interject while the Chair is speaking will be removed from the Chamber. It is quite obvious that during question time points of order are being taken with the intention of disrupting Ministers' answers. The Chair had warned members on numerous occasions against debating such a tactic.

There is far too much unwarranted interjection. While Ministers provide serious answers to important questions members will cease interjecting and maintain order in the House. All members who had been called to order previously were placed on three calls to order.

Ministers will answer questions and resist the temptation to interject.

Because of the level of interjection the Chair was having difficulty hearing the Minister's answer.

Members should remain silent when Ministers are answering questions.

Members should not interject and incite Ministers into responding.

Matters of Public Importance:
A matter of public importance was ruled out of order on the basis that it was wrong in fact and that the member could raise the matter in his contribution to debate on the second reading of the Appropriation Bill. The Chair has always encouraged open debate. However, it would be inappropriate if members were to proceed to discuss a matter that had no substance in fact—which would result in the time of the House being wasted with members taking numerous points of order.

Member Named: 160, 162, 261, 262, 2465.

Member Removed: 3233, 4249, 4434, 4437.

Ministerial Statements:
Had leave been granted to a Minister to address the House subsequent to item 10 of the routine of business being called on, a matter would have been regarded by the Chair as a ministerial statement and, accordingly, the Leader of the Opposition could have responded for the same time as the Minister took to make the statement.

The Leader of the Opposition or member deputed by him may respond to a ministerial statement at the appropriate time; until that time they should remain silent.

A member in response to a ministerial statement is confined to discussing matters that are contained in the ministerial statement.

Because a Minister in a ministerial statement made passing reference to a matter the Leader of the Opposition was entitled to refer to the same matter in response.

Offensive and Objectionable Remarks, Imputations and Aspersions:
A Minister was asked to be more moderate with his language; or more temperate in his comments.

Members must be prepared to accept a level of criticism without becoming overly sensitive.
Expression required to be withdrawn: “Have you been taking your medication?”, 172; “The honourable member is a fool”, 679; “lied”, 1366; “You are a liar”, 1728; “The Premier is a liar”, 3240.

Members will refrain from accusing one another of lying and confine their contributions to the question before the Chair, 353.

The Chair would prefer members not to use the term “lies”, 354.

The Chair was reminded of a recent interchange between members of the House of Representatives when the word “lie” was used on a number of occasions. The community was far from impressed by that interchange. Members of this House will refrain from using such a word unless provoked, 680.

With regard to criticisms by members of persons other than members of the House, a member must accept responsibility for statements that reflect upon persons outside the Parliament, and it is not the duty of the Chair to interfere, 1233.

A member was asked whether he wished to raise a matter in relation to which he felt that he had been impugned, 1366.

The Chair had no power to direct the Premier to apologise and withdraw reference to “so-called medication” that a member might be taking, 1719.

The Chair will not tolerate members using such terms as “lie” and “lying”. Alternative non-offensive words may be found in any dictionary, 1725.

A member objected to the use of the word “impropriety”. Given the robust nature of the debate the Chair suggested that the member should accept the burden of the accusation, 1728.

The Chair did not hear a remark about which complaint had been made, 1968.

A reference was made by a member to illustrate in a humorous manner the point he was making, 2357.

The Chair has ruled on many occasions it will not tolerate members directing such expressions as “lie” and “liar” at other members. Any member who attempts to do so will be placed on four calls to order and removed from the Chamber, 3089.

The Chair will not accept the use by members of such remarks as “liar”. A member was asked to uphold the principles of dignity and decorum and withdraw the remark, 3240.

In a debate the Chair advised that any members wishing to contribute to debate should confine their remarks to the unparliamentary remark of a member and whether the Chair should exercise its discretion and direct that member to withdraw the remark, 3241.

Personal Explanations:
If a member believes he or she has been misrepresented, he or she may make a personal explanation at the end of debate, 172.

A member was outside the leave appropriate for the making of a personal explanation, 1366.

As a member was debating the essence of a matter rather than seeking to explain how his reputation had been impugned, the member was directed to resume his seat, 1720.

The purpose of a personal explanation is to enable a member to show how his or her reputation has been impugned or reflected upon, 1720.

Only the member to whom comment was directed can seek an apology or withdrawal, 1720.

Standing orders do not permit a member to refer to departmental documents while making a personal explanation, 1987.

Members wishing to make personal explanations should do so at the appropriate time, 2361, 4764.

A member was permitted to make a personal explanation so long as he complied with the standing orders, 3095.

The Chair drew the attention of a member to the standing order relevant to the procedure for the making of personal explanations, which are made at the appropriate time with the leave of the House and not by way of interjection, 3241.

Leave having been granted to a member to make a personal explanation, the member should succinctly explain how he had been misrepresented, 3245, 3417.

Members should state precisely the nature of the alleged misrepresentation or they will be directed to desist and to resume their seats, 3245.

Members, having concluded their personal explanations, should resume their seats, 1988, 3245, 3247.

SPEAKER, MR (THE HON. J. H. MURRAY)

Assembly, Legislative: Rulings, Observations and Opinions of the Chair (continued):

SPEAKER, MR (THE HON. J. H. MURRAY)

A member who had strayed from the leave available to her was directed to state how she had been misrepresented, 3246.

A member can do no more than seek to explain any variation between what the member suggests is the fact and what was said by another member, 3246.

Members who do not abide by the rulings of the Chair will be directed to resume their seats.

Members may refer to variations in statements but they may not give reasons for those variations, 3246.

Members should seek to explain to the House and the Chair how they had been maligned or they will resume their seats, 3740.

The purpose of a personal explanation is to enable a member to explain not what someone said was wrong but how his or her character had been maligned, 3740.

Removal of Prop, 681.

Standing Order 100, 4309.

Members seeking to take a number of points of order should ensure that each point is different from those taken earlier, 28.

A member was asked to wait for silence in the House before putting a point of order, 29.

Members should state their points of order without comment, 33; or debate, 161.

Frivolous points of order will not be tolerated by the Chair, 38, 479.

A member speaking was directed to resume his seat while another member took a point of order, 36, 168, 342.

Members should remain silent while a point of order is presented, 40, 42.

Points of order should not be used as a vehicle to interrupt replies by Ministers during question time.
Members who are adjudged to be using points of order for this purpose will be called to order. 157, 592.

The Chair was of the view that a member was deliberately embarking on a tactic of taking points of order for the purpose of interrupting the reply of a Minister. The Chair warned the member and other members of a similar mind against using such a tactic, 157.

A member wishing to take a point of order should address the Chair, 279; and when the member has concluded the point, the member should resume his or her seat, 157.

It is out of order for a member to raise a point of order while a point of order is already under discussion, 161.

Members were warned of the consequences of members taking spurious points of order, 341, 355, 562, 1807; frivolous points of order, 479, 1582, 3239, 3409, 3571, 3574; unnecessary points of order, 1581; and points of order without substance, 4709, 4892.

A member was directed to give the Chair the benefit of the point of order, 562, 675, 816, 980; or speak to the point of order, 804, 805.

It is a longstanding convention of the House that a member making his or her first speech is heard in silence. The Chair heard a point of order because the matter being referred to by the member making his first speech impinged upon a motion, notice of which had been given by another member. The Chair ruled that unless a similar situation arose, it did not intend to entertain other points of order for the remainder of the member’s first speech, 562, 563.

The Chair will not tolerate the tactic of members taking numerous points of order for the purpose of interrupting Ministers’ answers, 675, 679.

The Chair was unable to rule on a point of order that a Minister withdraw a statement as the statement of the Minister was not heard by the Chair, 679.

A point of order cannot be taken while the Chair is reading out a motion, 993.

A member was warned that if he continued to interrupt the response of a Minister with points of order that had no substance he would be removed from the House, 1061, 1062.
point of order as advice given by one member was contrary to the advice given by another, 3945.

Members wishing to take points of order should seek the call and address their remarks through the Chair, 4097.

A member was permitted to ask a question having been given the call prior to the expiration of time for questions without notice, 4711.

Private Members' Statements:
Members are restricted to raising one subject matter in private members' statements, 369.

Privilege:
Some aspects of a statement by a member raised doubts about whether any breach of privilege had been committed. The Chair reserved judgment on the matter, 155.

The Speaker ruled that a prima facie case had not been established of breach of parliamentary privilege by interference with the performance of a member's duties, together with intimidatory action taken by the Public Service Association on behalf of two electorate office staff due to the alleged breakdown in the working relationship between the member and the staff. The Speaker was not able to rule that the motion have precedence over all other business. It was open, however, for the member to give notice of a private member's general business motion, 268.

Standing orders do not prevent a member, under privilege in the House, attacking a member of the public, 1972.

As the Chair did not hear any utterance of an offensive nature about a particular member or any member seated near to that member, a member was not permitted to refer to the utterance as a matter of privilege, 1974, 1975.

That a member believed he was to speak to a specific matter is not a basis for a point of privilege, 2068.

Procedure:
During the placing or disposal of business the Chair asked that members make some allowance for the fact that the House had many new members and the chair had a new occupant, 156.

The Chair offered to discuss with a member in chambers the difficulties that would arise if a motion were moved that the division bells be rung for four minutes, and that at the completion of that time members who had left the Chamber (following the removal of a member) and had not returned be relevant matters have been presented to the court for decision, any reference in the House to such matters would not impinge upon the judgment of the court, 1589.

Speaker, Mr (The Hon. J. H. Murray) (continued):

As there was little likelihood that a motion on the business paper would be debated in the immediate future a Minister was at liberty to make reference to a particular matter, 1969.

Standing and sessional orders may be amended only by a motion in the appropriate form, 2196.

Only the mover and one other member may speak to a motion for the suspension of standing orders, 4315.

Questions Without Notice:

Form
The Chair advised members that in accordance with precedent questions without notice should be succinct. A member was given the opportunity to rephrase a question, 32.

The object of question time is for members to seek information, not to give it, 37.

Members should ask questions and refrain from comment, 42.

A member who asked a number of questions in the one question was given the opportunity to reword his question, 160.

The House was reminded of a previous ruling about the length of questions and the tactic of members seeking to ask a number of questions under the guise of one question. Questions asked in such a form will be ruled out of order, 347.

A question was ruled out of order:
as it sought responses to two different questions. The member was given the opportunity to reword the question, 483.
as being argumentative. The member was given the opportunity to reword the question, 591.
as it contained a number of propositions. The member may seek to ask a question in more acceptable terms at a later stage, 984.
as it sought to provide information. The member who asked the question was permitted to redraft the question, 2103.
because it sought to ask a number of questions in the form of one question, 2461.

Assembly, Legislative: Rulings, Observations and Opinions of the Chair (continued):

Speaker, Mr (The Hon. J. H. Murray) (continued):

for being too lengthy. However, the member was permitted to rephrase the question and ask it in the rephrased form later in question time, 3574.
as it sought a legal opinion, 4438.

It is inappropriate that members should seek to ask a number of questions in the form of one question, 483.

A question without notice was ruled in order:
after the Chair had satisfied itself that it was different from a question that had been placed on notice, 1965.
after a point of order was taken that it was "far too long and that it flouted the conventions of the House, 3931, 3932.

A member was permitted to rephrase, or reword, a question, 483, 591, 984, 2103, 3574, 4251.

Minister's Latitude
When reminding members of the robust nature of question time the Chair informed members that it has knowledge of the frustration felt by Opposition members who find it difficult to accept criticism, 28.

Traditionally Ministers are not obliged to answer questions about the private activities of members of their staff, outside their role in the Minister's office, 42.

A Minister was permitted to draw on vast experience in local government to answer a question, 42.

Ministers often expand on answers for lengthy periods, 157.

Traditionally, Ministers are given a certain amount of latitude with regard to responding to questions, 157.

The Premier was at liberty to refer to documents to further illustrate a point, 159.

It is a longstanding tradition in this House that the Premier may answer any question, and may do so on behalf of any Minister, 261.

The Chair ruled that a question asked by a Minister in an answer was rhetorical, 480.

A Minister was making passing reference to a member's past actions and not engaging in a personal attack on the member, 480.
It is a longstanding tradition of this House that Ministers can refer to other matters to illustrate a point. 486.

It is difficult enough for the Chair to require that all members listen attentively to answers without Ministers making comment. A Minister’s response would be more easily understood if it were addressed through the Chair. 671.

A Minister needs no assistance from other members to provide an answer, 671, 985; which the Chair was sure the Minister was about to conclude, 671.

A Minister's answer was ruled not to be a direct attack on another member. Rather it was a comment on the comments of the member concerned, 674.

A Minister was reminded that the question asked was quite specific, 675.

A Minister was directed to address the Chair and return to the subject matter of the question, 809.

It is common practice for Minister to make statements when responding to questions without notice. As a Minister was not referring to a matter of policy, he was ruled to be in order, 1062.

It is generally accepted that Ministers may seek to table documents as they wish, 1064.

A Minister understood the relevance of a question and was about to address it, 1067.

Rather than respond to interjections Ministers should answer the question asked. 1465.

The Chair has no power to direct a Minister to answer a specific question. 588, 589, 1586, 1714, 2104.

Standing orders do not provide that responses to questions without notice should be of any specific length, 1717.

A Minister was asked to conclude his answer as expeditiously as possible, and was then asked to resume his seat. 2346.

The power of the Chair is limited with regard to directing a Minister how to answer a question without notice. Ministers may refer to a matter outside the scope of the question to illustrate a point, 2465.

Ministers have the interests of all members at heart in seeking to provide information that can be used in forthcoming debate, 3235.

It would be difficult for the Chair to maintain order and decorum if Ministers resorted to using props on every occasion they are asked questions without notice, 4095.

Procedure

Standing orders provide that 10 answers be given; they do not provide that questions be asked in a particular sequence. 267.

Standing orders provide that no question shall be asked after the answering of 10 questions. However, a member was permitted to ask a further question relative to the question he asked earlier in question time but which was ruled out of order, 2105.

The Chair ruled that the time for questions had expired, 10 questions having been answered. 3938.

Standing orders provide that no further questions may be asked after the answering of 10 questions. The answer to a supplementary question counts as one of the 10 answers, 4439.

Relevance

The scope of a question permitted a Minister to refer to a specific matter and his attitudes and actions, 4436.

A Minister was directed to return to the subject matter of the question. 39, 41, 163, 486, 1465, 1582, 1586, 2098, 2099, 2100, 2102, 3579, 3713, 4705, 4709.

Supplementary

Precedence is given to supplementary questions, 167.

Members who are not satisfied with a Minister's answer may seek to ask a supplementary question, 3239.

Ministers provide members with all the information that becomes available to questions that are asked of them, 4243.

A question was ruled not to be a supplementary question, 4711.

Relevance:

A member was directed to return to, address, or confine remarks to the question before the Chair, 13, 224, 232, 350, 487, 681, 812, 969, 1233, 1329, 1698, 1863, 1866, 2187, 2189, 2360, 3713, 4760.
Because of the degree of confusion since the recent elections with regard to chairpersons of parliamentary committees, in take-note debate on reports from such committees the Speaker ruled that should a recently elected chairperson wish to speak to a report presented by his or her committee, he or she may do so for a period of 10 minutes, in accordance with the relevant standing order. Similarly, with regard to reports of committees the chairpersons of which have not yet been elected, should a member who held the position of chairperson of the committee in the previous Parliament wish to speak, he or she will be permitted to speak for a period of 10 minutes, 251.

A Minister was in order using relevant information in reply to refute arguments presented previously, 357.

A member was in order to debate matters brought to the attention of the House by another member, 562.

A member strayed from the essence of the debate, 599, 969.

Though the Chair had extended leniency to a member and allowed him to draw on historical perspectives, the member was directed to return to the subject matter of the motion, 681.

Members should concentrate on the procedural aspects and the sessional orders rather than historical references, 1228.

Debate had become somewhat personal. A member was directed to return to the subject matter of the question before the Chair, 1233.

The Chair has no power to direct a member to make statements relevant when the member had some time remaining to speak, during which time the statements may become relevant, 1352.

The Chair suggested that if a member did not want his time for speaking further eroded, he should return to the leave of the question before the Chair, 1866.

A member was warned not to stray from the leave extended, 3241.

Members should make passing reference only to issues outside the leave of the question before the Chair, 3943.

A member, who was referring to matters that were the subject of another motion about which notice was given for urgent consideration, was directed to confine his remarks to the motion before the House, 4490.

A Minister was in order using relevant information in reply to refute arguments presented previously, 357.

Routine of Business: During the placing or disposal of business the Chair asked that members make some allowance for the fact that the House had many new members and the chair had a new occupant, 156.

Tabling of Documents: Although the Chair was of the view that it was inappropriate to table documents as they attract privilege and may prevent their use in court action, subsequent advice was that such a problem did not arise in relation to two of three documents a member requested the Chair to table. However, as a problem did arise with regard to the third document, the Chair, to safeguard the interests of parliamentary officers, ruled that the third document remain in the custody of the Parliament and not be released unless it was required to be presented at a court, 561.

Arrangements having been made to have tabled documents copied, the Chair informed members that when copies were available they would be distributed to members, 563.

If Ministers wish to table material, they may seek leave to do so, 1579.

Although a member requests a Minister to table a document, it is a matter for the Minister whether to table the document, 1713.

Unanswered Questions Upon Notice: At an early stage of the Fifty-first Parliament the Chair extended some leniency to new Ministers and their ministerial staff in terms of their familiarisation with the question paper and its format and their responsibilities to the House pursuant to Standing Order 141. In future Ministers will be called to give reasons for lodging late answers, 1060, 1061.

The HON. ANN SYMONDS:
Appointment, 314.

The HON. JENNIFER GARDINER:

Interjections, Interruptions and Disorder:
There is far too much noise in the House, and that makes it very difficult for Hansard, 880.

Upheld:
Relevance, 4376.

As Temporary Chairman of Committees:

Amendments:
In accordance with Standing Order 175 circulated amendments were ruled out of order. The amendments related to matters outside the leave of the bill, 741.

As two amendments conflicted, the Chair allowed debate on both amendments simultaneously, 4810.

Offensive and Objectionable Remarks, Imputations and Aspersions:
Expressions required to be withdrawn: [A member was] "the Antichrist", 5162.

Points of Order:
Not Involved: 5162.

The HON. DR MARLENE GOLDSMITH:

Chair:
Members will address the Chair, 3634, 4081.

Debate:
Members will observe the procedures of the Chamber when referring to other members, 879.

DEPUTY-PRESIDENT (THE HON. DR MARLENE GOLDSMITH)(continued):

Interjections, Interruptions and Disorder:
There is far too much noise in the House, and that makes it very difficult for Hansard, 880.

There will be no communications across the Chamber, 3025.

The patience of the Chair is being increasingly tried. It must be extremely difficult for Hansard to hear the debate. The Chair would be loathe to call any member to order, but it will if members continue to interject, 4840.

As Temporary Chairman of Committees:

 Casting Vote: 940, 941.

Chair:
It is discourteous of members to interrupt the Chair, 2299.

Members should address their comments through the Chair, 4632.

Members may look at other members when addressing the Chamber provided their backs are not turned to the Chair. 4632

Interjections, Interruptions and Disorder:
Members wishing to contribute to debate will have ample opportunity to do so, 2296.

If members would assist by keeping the noise level down in the Chamber, the task of Hansard would be much easier, 2299.

The task of Hansard was being made extremely difficult by the high level of noise in the Chamber. The Chair asked members to exercise some forbearance, 5092.

Procedure:
The normal procedure is to recommit a bill after the conclusion of the consideration of the bill. However, there is precedent to return to an amendment forthwith with the leave of the Committee, 5005.

The HON. JOHN RICHARD JOHNSON:

As Deputy-President:
Debate:
So long as members comply with the standing orders the issue of fairness does not arise, 4832.

Interjections, Interruptions and Disorder:
Members interjecting will have an opportunity to contribute to debate when they are given the call to do so, 4194, 4195.
Council, Legislative: Rulings, Observations and Opinions of the Chair (continued):

DEPUTY-PRESIDENT (THE HON. J. R. JOHNSON)

Just as members are not permitted to use mobile telephones, neither are members of the public in the gallery, 4658.

Points of Order:
Not Involved: 2289, 4195, 4831.

The HoN. ELISABETH KIRKBY:

AS DEPUTY-PRESIDENT:

Interjections, Interruptions and Disorder:
Although the standing orders do not refer to the reading of newspapers in the Chamber by members, it is precedent that members are not permitted to read newspapers or magazines when debate is in progress, 3693.

The HoN. HELEN WAI-HAR SHAM-HO:

AS DEPUTY-PRESIDENT:

Points of Order:
Not Upheld: 4065.

The Hon. ELIZABETH ANN SYMONDS:

AS DEPUTY-PRESIDENT:

Interjections, Interruptions and Disorder:
A member interjecting was reminded of the opportunity to contribute to debate at a later stage, 772.

The House would benefit from a lack of intrusion into a Minister's speech. The Minister may also conclude his remarks so that members may benefit from the contributions of others, 773.

Members will cease interjecting, 3080.

Members were asked to allow the member with the call to continue his contribution without interjection, 3184.

Members wishing to contribute to debate should seek to have their names added to the speakers list, or cease interjecting, 4011.

Points of Order:
Not Involved: 3668, 3669.

A member was asked to state his point of order, 3668.

Council, Legislative: Rulings, Observations and Opinions of the Chair (continued):

DEPUTY-PRESIDENT (THE HON. ANN SYMONDS)

Procedure:
A member was informed that the Chair had mistaken the procedure of the adjournment of the House. The question having been put and agreed to a member was unable to speak and the House was adjourned, 773.

Relevance:
In a debate that was not one in which traditionally a degree of leniency was extended to members, a member was directed to confine her remarks to the subject matter of the debate, 3668.

A member was directed to return to the subject matter of the question before the Chair, 3668, 3669.

DEPUTY-PRESIDENT AND CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEES (THE HON. D. J. GAY):

Election, 6.

AS ACTING-PRESIDENT

Announcements:
Filming of Proceedings, 2987, 5057.
Notice Paper, 4583.
Select Committee on Hospital Waiting Lists, 4583.

Debate:
Members may not contribute to debate when they are in the gallery area of the Chamber, 5078.

Interjections, Interruptions and Disorder:
The Chair was having difficulty hearing debate. Members who wish to conduct meetings should do so in the members anteroom, 2998.

Because of the level of noise in the Chamber the Chair was not able to rule on a point of order, 4614.

There is far too much audible conversation in the Chamber. Members wishing to converse should do so outside the Chamber, 4616.

Members who have had ample opportunity to contribute to the debate should listen in silence to the member in reply, 4625; and if they wish to contribute further, they should seek the call in Committee, 4790.

Consideration should be given to the Hansard staff, whose task is made the more difficult by a three-way conversation taking place across the Chamber, 4790.

ACTING-PRESIDENT (THE HON. D. J. GAY)

Members wishing to contribute should seek the call at the appropriate time, 4843; and they should resist the temptation to interject, 4843.

Members interjecting were asked to show restraint, 4845.

The Chair had been tolerant of interjections. The member with the call should be allowed to make a contribution without members at the table and around the Chamber interjecting, 4846.

Members should refrain from interjecting. Those who have contributed to debate already should listen in silence to the contributions of others, 4850, 5048.

Offensive and Objectionable Remarks, Imputations and Aspersions:

Members will moderate their language or be called to order, 5159.

A member was directed to withdraw the term “absolute fool” without qualification, 5159.

Points of Order:

Not Involved: 4833, 5155, 5157.

Upheld:

Conduct of Members, 5154.

Difficulty Hearing Debate, 4974.

Reflection on Vote of the House, 5165.

Relevance, 5159.

Procedure:

Members shall not canvass or reflect upon a vote of the House, 5165.

Members may not contribute to debate when they are in the gallery area of the Chamber, 5078.

Upon attention being drawn to the fact that a Minister was not in attendance, the Chair indicated he would leave the Chamber. However, a Minister having attended the debate proceeded, 5131.

Relevance:

Contributions should be relevant to the question before the Chair, 5159.

Questions Without Notice:

Questions without notice should be concise, 4608; and contain and seek little detail, otherwise they should be placed on notice, 4608, 4612, 4664, 4972.

AS DEPUTY-PRESIDENT:

Casting Vote: 3189.

Council, Legislative: Rulings, Observations and Opinions of the Chair (continued);

DEPUTY-PRESIDENT (THE HON. D. J. GAY)

Debate:

Members will not address other members by their first names, 530.

The normal courtesies should be extended to members about to make their maiden speeches, 2272.

Interjections, Interruptions and Disorder:

Members should concentrate on debate, 95.

Members should show some respect for members with the call and to keep their conversations at a low level, 216.

There was far too much noise in the Chamber. The Chair had difficulty hearing the member speaking. Members who wish to engage in conversation should leave the Chamber, 407.

Members were asked to show courtesy to the member speaking. Members should leave the Chamber if they wish to conduct loud conversations, 407.

People in the public gallery are not permitted to disrupt debate in the House. A further outburst will result in the gallery being cleared, 517.

There was too much conversation in the Chamber, 3060.

Members interjecting will have an opportunity to contribute to debate at a later and appropriate time, 1657, 3542.

The sooner members cease interjecting the sooner the member with the call will conclude his or her contribution, 3679.

Offensive and Objectionable Remarks, Imputations and Aspersions:

Although the comments of a member were within what members have come to expect in the normal cut and thrust of debate, a member was asked to be a little temperate when referring to other members, 4325.

Order and Decorum:

Members were reminded of the standing orders regarding the reading of newspapers in the Chamber, 1164.

The Chair suggested that the traditions of the House required a member to be more appropriately dressed, 3311.

DEPUTY-PRESIDENT (THE HON. D. J. GAY) (continued):

People seated in the public gallery will not attempt to communicate directly with members in the Chamber. Should they attempt to do so, they will be asked to leave the gallery. Similarly, members with friends in the gallery should not encourage such communication, 4016.

Points of Order:
Not Involved: 659, 3525.

Relevance:
A member was reminded of the question before the Chair, 3326.

Members will confine their remarks to the leave of the question before the Chair, 3638.

AS CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEES:

Amendments:
An amendment sought to be moved to the Crimes Amendment (Child Pornography) Bill was ruled in order, 1428.

Interjections, Interruptions and Disorder:
There is far too much audible conversation in the Chamber, 552.

As standing orders did not allow for the use of such devices, members were directed to desist from using mobile phones in the Chamber, 1026.

Points of Order:
Not involved: 1428, 3889.

A member was directed to address the point of order, 1428.

PRESIDENT (THE HON. MAX FREDERICK WILLIS):

Election, 3.
Presentation to Governor, 3.

Announcements:
Filing of Proceedings, 79.
Members Badge, 3143.
Routine of Business, 639, 1425.

Casting vote: 1277.

Chair:
Members will address their remarks through the Chair, 1655; and not harangue Ministers, 1281.

Debate:
Members must not address other members by their first given names, 91.

PRESIDENT (THE HON. M. F. WILLIS) (continued):

Members seeking to canvass a particular piece of legislation will be ruled out of order as anticipating debate on a bill that was before the House, 2057.

Technically speaking, because the call had been given to a member to speak in reply, the debate has closed. However, it is within the courtesy of the member in reply to defer to permit another member to speak, 2136.

Members were asked to extend the usual courtesies to members making their maiden speeches, 3176.

Documents:
If a member wishes to table a document, he or she must seek leave of the House to do so, 124.

A member was asked to identify the document being read from, 555.

Interjections, Interruptions and Disorder:
The attendants were directed to clear the public galleries, 314.

A Minister did not need any assistance to answer a question, 203, 1904.

It is disorderly for members to read any type of newspaper in the House, 899.

Conversation between members across the Chamber when questions are being asked is not acceptable, 1256.

Members were warned that if debate did not continue in an orderly manner, there would be fewer members in the House, 1801.

The Chair will not tolerate interrogatories across the floor of the House, 1932.

Members are not permitted to make speeches by way of interjection, 2415.

It is contrary to the standing orders for members to interject, 3041.

Only one member at a time can receive the call, 3496.

There is far too much audible conversation in the Chamber and in the gallery, 3522.

The Chair will not tolerate frivolity, 3833.

A member was directed to cease his carping interjections, 3886.

The level of interjection and general noise is unacceptable. If the level of noise does not abate, the Chair will act to ensure that it does, 4055.

Notices of Motions:
A practice, established in the previous Parliament, was maintained of members not giving notice of more than one substantive motion at a time, 81.

The Clerk was directed to remove a number of Government Business Notices of Motions from the notice paper, 188.

There is nothing in the standing orders relating to the procedure for the postponement of notices of motions. However, it has been the longstanding practice of the House to postpone notices by way of substantive motion rather than by leave, 215.

Offensive and Objectionable Remarks, Imputations and Aspersions:
A member who wishes to make allegations against a member of either House should proceed by way of substantive motion. A member who effectively was making allegations by reading a document that made allegations was ruled out of order and advised that if she wished to proceed with the matter, she should do so by way of substantive motion, 555.

The Chair will not entertain a statement which effectively is an allegation of misconduct. Such matters are dealt with on substantive motion, 555.

Expressions required to be withdrawn: "I am not sure [a member] is honourable by title any more; he is certainly not honourable in substance", 754.

Members may not read from documents written by other persons to make allegations against a member of either House. Reflections against members of either House must be made by way of substantive motion, 947.

Newspapers cannot be used indirectly as a means of giving substance to allegations against members, 1168.

There is a difference between a member relating a statement of fact and a member reflecting upon or imputing improper motives to a member of either House of the Parliament. Members should simply state facts without opinion or reflection on those actions, 1168.

Points of Order:
Not Involved: 88, 314, 412, 636, 747, 1145, 1256, 1450, 1903, 1906, 2143, 2145, 2260, 2409, 3307, 3659, 3660, 3661, 3662, 3831, 3832, 3835, 3883, 3884, 3886, 4023, 4181, 4182.

Relevance:
Members should confine their remarks to the question before the Chair, 3549, 3885, 3886, 4210.

In giving the call to a member the Chair reminded the member that his only right to address was on the question of the amendment before the House, 3887.

Questions without Notice:
Questions ruled in order, 1630, 1768, 1903, 2015, 2259.

Questions ruled out of order, 1258, 1453, 1769, 3300.

PRESIDENT (THE HON. M. F. WILLIS) (continued):

There is no obligation on a Minister to answer a question, 104, 3835.

A Minister was directed to answer the question and not to indulge in interrogatories, 198.

A Minister did not need any assistance to answer a question, 203, 1904.

A member was directed to ask the question, 427, 1032, 3171.

In asking a question a member is entitled to give a short and reasonable introduction, 427.

The purpose of questions without notice is to elicit information from Ministers of the Crown concerning the public administration of the State, 4181; although it is customary for members to prefix questions with a setting for their questions, such prefaces should be contained and not made a feature providing information that is otherwise publicly available. 1258.

A question did not comply with the provisions of Standing Order 29, and it was ruled out of order, 1258.

A member was allowed to continue to ask a question that the member assured the Chair was different from one asked earlier, 1902.

A question was ruled in order as the questioner had made a statement of fact which was public information, 2015.

A question was in order as it did not reflect on a decision of the House and did not seek to debate an issue which is on the notice paper, 2259.

The Chair directed a Minister to produce deferred answers to questions without notice, 2268.

It is within the judgment of a Minister to determine whether to answer a question or to refer it to another Minister, 3053.

It was not in order for a member to ask a supplementary question, 3501.

It is not in order for a member to ask a supplementary question when a purely formal answer, such as referring the matter to another Minister, has been given. A supplementary question must be based on part of the substantive answer given in response to a question, 3531.

The Chair will not accept more than one supplementary question to each question, 4180.

Sub Judice Rule:
Members should consider carefully the question of sub judice. What members say must not influence or prejudice the parties of proceedings, 220.

Tabling of Documents:
If documents are not public transcripts, the question arises whether they should be released publicly if leave is granted to table them. The Chair suggested that the court would have good reason for not releasing the documents to the public and cautioned the House against granting leave to table documents, 2305.

It is not for the Chair to grant or deny leave for the tabling of documents, it is a matter for the House, 2305.

The Chair advised members that there was precedent for restricted access to tabled documents at the discretion of the Chair, 2305.
