(k) Protection from Harmful Radiation Regulation 2013 ,	20
(l) Veterinary Practice Regulation 2013 .	21
Explanatory note	22
Item [1] of the proposed amendments provides that the Road Rules 2014 made under the Road Transport Act 2013 are no longer automatically repealed under the Subordinate Legislation Act 1989 , section 10.	23
Items [2]–[4] postpone, until 1 September 2025, the date on which several regulations are automatically repealed by the Subordinate Legislation Act 1989 . As the automatic repeal of each regulation has been postponed at least 5 times, the repeal cannot be further postponed by order under the Subordinate Legislation Act 1989 , section 11.	24
The regulations are currently due to be repealed on 1 September 2024 but continue to be required. The repeal is proposed to be further postponed for the following reasons—	25
(a) The Department of Customer Service and the Department of Communities and Justice conducted a statutory review of the Boarding Houses Act 2012 in 2020. It is considered premature to remake the Boarding Houses Regulation 2013 before legislative amendments arising from the statutory review are made.	26
(b) The Radiation Control Amendment Act 2023 was assented to on 24 October 2023 following a statutory review of the Radiation Control Act 1990 , which was renamed as the Protection from Harmful Radiation Act 1990 . As a review of the Protection from Harmful Radiation Regulation 2013 is currently being undertaken, it is considered premature to remake the regulation.	27
(c) Reviews of the Acts under which the following regulations are made are currently being undertaken and it is considered premature to remake the regulations—	28
(i) Crimes (Administration of Sentences) Regulation 2014 ,	29
(ii) Electricity Supply (General) Regulation 2014 ,	30
(iii) Electricity Supply (Safety and Network Management) Regulation 2014 ,	31
