

Plan your school tour of Parliament

About our tours

If you haven't booked your tour, our friendly team are ready to assist you.

Our free tours provide first-hand knowledge of the legislative process for students in stages 3, 5 and 6.

Students will:

- gain insight into democracy: explore the democratic process, understand the role of parliamentarians, and learn about law making and the role of debates in the chambers.
- experience Australia's oldest parliament: discover the rich history and architecture of NSW Parliament House
- engage in interactive learning: guided tours, and role play activities ensure active participation and understanding of parliamentary procedures.

How to book

Bookings can be made via our online form or by contacting us by phone or email.

BOOK HERE

Primary school students

We welcome primary students in years five and six to dive into democracy with role play in the very place state laws are made.

To add to your experience, you may be able to meet your local member (pending availability).

Capacity: 60 primary school students per tour.

Secondary school students

We welcome students in years 10 and 11, with particular value for commerce and legal studies classes. Explore the historic chambers and gain a deeper understanding of law making and civic responsibility.

Capacity: 50 high school students per tour.

Curriculum Outcomes

Stage 3 History (Years 5 and 6)

Students engage with local, state and federal government structures and responsibilities.

Stage 5 Commerce (Years 9 and 10)

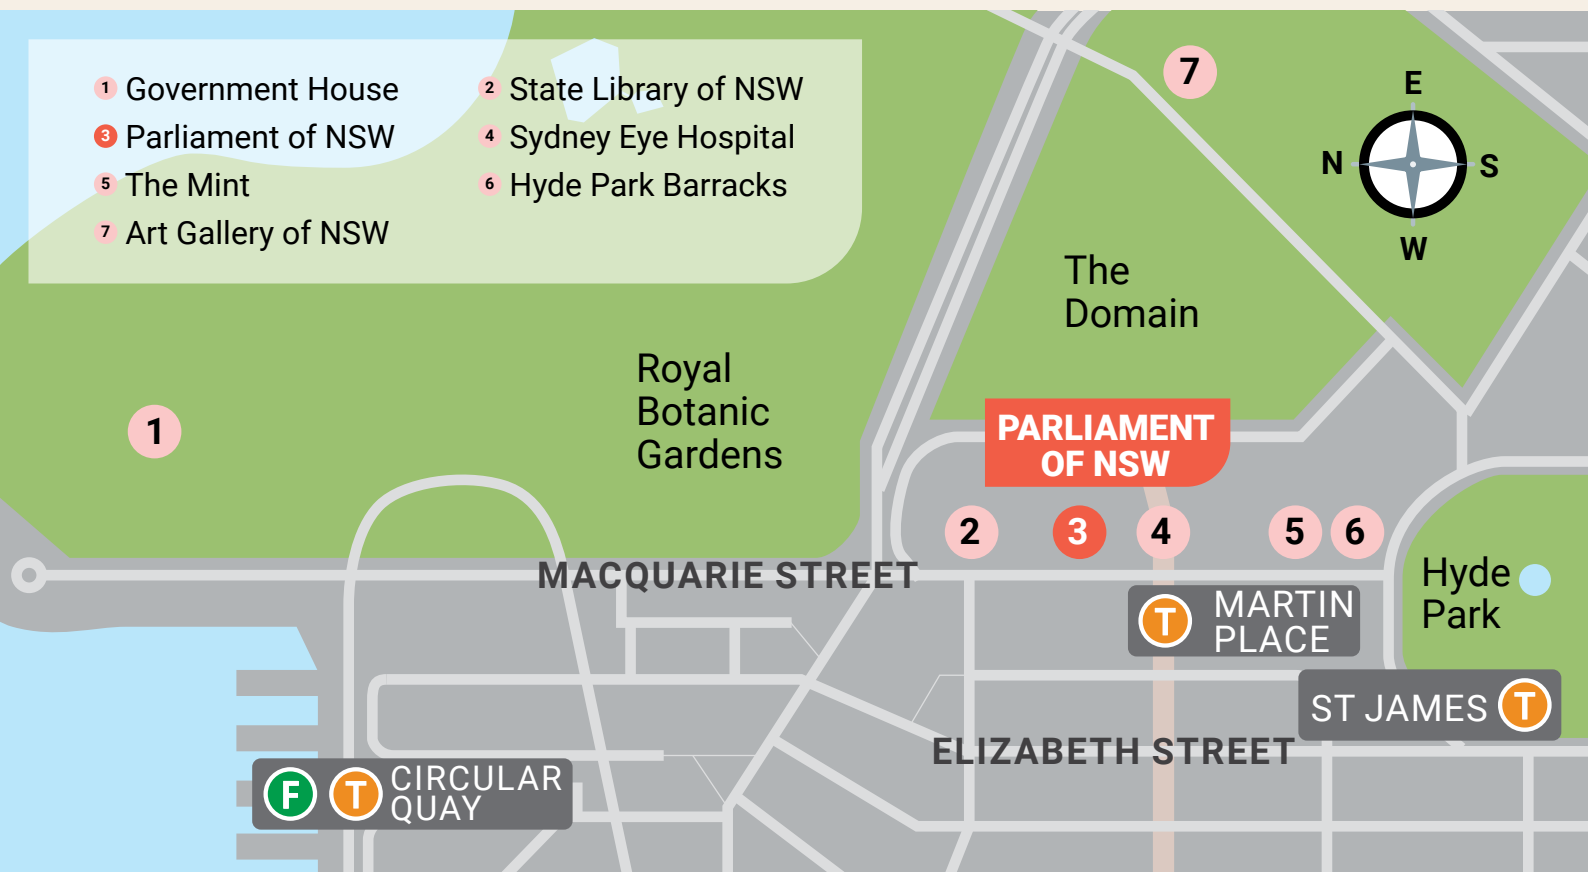

Students develop an understanding of political and legal processes in order to become informed, responsible and active citizens. Commerce provides opportunities for students to develop the skills required to become responsible and independent individuals who can contribute to society.

Stage 6 Legal Studies (Year 11)

Part 1: The legal system – The nature and functions of law through the examination of the law-making processes and institutions including electing the parliament, statute law, development of the Australian constitution. Students explore the division and separation of powers concepts, learn about the role of parliamentary committees and hear how members of Parliament resolve disputes with the state.

Getting here

New South Wales Parliament House is located on Macquarie Street, between Sydney Eye Hospital and the State Library of NSW. When you arrive, entry is via the security gatehouse. Please then head up the front steps or use the ramp and lift to our reception area, where the tour begins.

Nearby attractions

We are one of many attractions on Macquarie Street your students might enjoy. Primary school students often enjoy combining their visit with the Justice and Police Museum to round out a day of civics and history education. Secondary school commerce and legal studies students may like to combine their visit with a trip to the Downing Centre, in addition to touring Parliament.

Accessibility

All visitors enter Parliament from Macquarie Street via a security screening station, similar to what you might experience at an airport. If you have accessibility requirements that affect how you undergo security screening, please advise the security officers when you arrive.

Wheelchair and mobility disability

There is ramp and lift access from the Macquarie Street entrance to reception located on level seven.

Once inside, Parliament House has flat access to both the Legislative Council and Legislative Assembly chambers, the Macquarie, Jubilee, McKell and Preston Stanley rooms, the Public Café and Strangers' Restaurant and the Learning Centre.

There are accessible lifts from reception on level seven, and the Theatre on level six. The carpets in Parliament House are short, with dense pile.
